On Charisma And Institution Building:

On Charisma and Institution Building Max Weber, 1968-12-15 This selection from Max Weber's writings presents his variegated work from one central focus: the relationship between charisma on the one hand and the process of institution building in the major fields of the social order such as politics, law, economy, and culture, and religion on the other. That the concept of charisma is crucially important for understanding the processes of institution building is implicit in Weber's own writings, and the explication of this relationship is perhaps the most important challenge which Weber's work poses for modern sociology. Max Weber on Charisma and Institution Building is a volume in The Heritage of Sociology, a series edited by Morris Janowitz. Other volumes deal with the writings of George Herbert Mead, William F. Ogburn, Louis Wirth, W. I. Thomas, Robert E. Park, and the Scottish Moralists: Adam Smith, David Hume, Adam Ferguson, and others.

Comparative Civilizations and Multiple Modernities Shmuel N. Eisenstadt, 2022-11-07 This collection of essays provides an analysis of the dynamics of civilizations. The processes of globalization and of world history are described from a comparative sociological point of view in a Weberian tradition. These essays were written between 1974 and 2002 by one of the most eminent sociologists of today. The print edition is available as a set of two volumes 9789004129931

Spirits and Letters Thomas G. Kirsch, 2008-05-01 Studies of religion have a tendency to conceptualise the Spirit and the Letter as mutually exclusive and intrinsically antagonistic. However, the history of religions abounds in cases where charismatic leaders deliberately refer to and make use of writings. This book challenges prevailing scholarly notions of the relationship between charisma and institution by analysing reading and writing practices in contemporary Christianity. Taking up the continuing anthropological interest in Pentecostal charismatic Christianity and representing the first book-length treatment of literacy practices among African Christians, this volume explores how church leaders in Zambia refer to the Bible and other religious literature and how they organise a church bureaucracy in the Pentecostal charismatic mode. Thus, by examining social processes and conflicts that revolve around the conjunction of Pentecostal charismatic and literacy practices in Africa, Spirits and Letters reconsiders influential conceptual dichotomies in the social sciences and the humanities and is therefore of interest not only to anthropologists but also to scholars working in the fields of African studies, religious studies, and the sociology of religion.
