Me Tarzan You Jane:

Goddess In The Jungle Walther Krieg, The Unfolding of Language Guy Deutscher, 2006-05-02 Blending the spirit of Eats Shoots Leaves with the science of The Language Instinct an original inquiry into the development of that most essential and mysterious of human creations Language Language is mankind s greatest invention except of course that it was never invented So begins linguist Guy Deutscher s enthralling investigation into the genesis and evolution of language If we started off with rudimentary utterances on the level of man throw spear how did we end up with sophisticated grammars enormous vocabularies and intricately nuanced degrees of meaning Drawing on recent groundbreaking discoveries in modern linguistics Deutscher exposes the elusive forces of creation at work in human communication giving us fresh insight into how language emerges evolves and decays He traces the evolution of linguistic complexity from an early Me Tarzan stage to such elaborate single word constructions as the Turkish sehirlilestiremediklerimizdensiniz you are one of those whom we couldn t turn into a town dweller Arguing that destruction and creation in language are intimately entwined Deutscher shows how these processes are continuously in operation generating new words new structures and new meanings As entertaining as it is erudite The Unfolding of Language moves nimbly from ancient Babylonian to American idiom from the central role of metaphor to the staggering triumph of design that is the Semitic verb to tell the dramatic story and explain the genius behind a uniquely human faculty

Compromise Formations Vera J. Camden, 1989 These essays are collected from the Fourth International Conference on Literature and Psychology held at Kent State University 7-9 August 1987 In selecting the essays for this first collection to emerge from the varied conferences now being sponsored by the Kent State University Center for Literature and Psychoanalysis Vera Camden has brought together representative contributions from two major contemporary schools of psychoanalytic criticism object relations and Lacanian theory These essays define the questions which emerge when both schools are brought into the kind of association engendered by this conference offering not so much a resolution to opposing positions as a fuller articulation of the space each occupies and a fluidity of discussion which has characterized psychoanalysis since Freud's earliest discoveries Each contributor is concerned with the place of the unconscious in the determination of the human subject and its representations Whether the approach is primarily clinical or literary each identifies and analyzes the anguish of the incomplete self a self which looks to construct identify regain or even deny meaning A crucial difference emerges among these authors as to how the experience of human alienation and the quest for identify is to be analyzed Some would suggest after Jacques Lacan that the task of analysis is to recognize the illusion of the unitary self and to reconcile the individual to that state Others would contend the task of analysis is to recover by the transference relationship the lost unity missing in childhood and reflect in adult object relations These essays range from clinical perspectives in psychosis and creativity to critical readings of Joyce and Shakespeare to recent applications of brain research to traditional psychoanalytic notions of the human subject The richness and variety in this collection bear witness to the continuing impact of psychoanalysis on literary and cultural studies
