

Difference Between Authority and Power

In management, authority differs from power in the following ways :-

1. Nature

- ❖ Authority is the formal right given to a manager to make decisions or to command.
- ❖ Power is the personal ability to influence others or events.

2. Flow

- ❖ Authority flows downwards in the organization. This is because it is delegated by the superiors to the subordinates.
- ❖ Power can flow in any direction. Even subordinates have power over their superiors, if they can influence their behavior. So power can flow upwards, downwards or horizontally.

3. Organizational Charts

- ❖ Authority relationships (superior-subordinate relationships) can be shown in the organization charts.
- ❖ Power relationships cannot be shown in organization charts.
