

Illustration by Deborah Lohmeier

I was born at the beginning of the century and lived early at home and in a white square parlor house in the corn belt, of two physically beautiful people who had come west through the Indian and the Lincoln country, creating the western American by enormous and rugged and gay meetings with the Church, the Indian, the free living preachers, abolitionists, apostles, radical lawyers on the Lincoln, Illinois, front. Dissenters and democrats and radicals through five generations. And the young strangers keep coming on. Seven generations old and the grandchildren fly out, feel out the new strengths.

Eligible for 75 - Survival is a form of resistance.
