Making Silence Speak:

Making Silence Speak André Lardinois, Laura McClure, 2001-03-25 This collection attempts to recover the voices of women in antiquity from a variety of perspectives how they spoke where they could be heard and how their speech was adopted in literature and public discourse Rather than confirming the old model of binary oppositions in which women's speech was viewed as insignificant and subordinate to male discourse these essays reveal a dynamic and potentially explosive interrelation between women's speech and the realm of literary production religion and oratory The contributors use a variety of methodologies to mine a diverse array of sources from Homeric epic to fictional letters of the second sophistic period and from actual letters written by women in Hellenistic Egypt to the poetry of Sappho Throughout the term voice is used in its broadest definition It includes not only the few remaining genuine women's voices but also the ways in which male authors render women's speech and the social assumptions such representations reflect and reinforce These essays therefore explore how fictional female voices can serve to negotiate complex social epistemological and aesthetic issues The contributors include Josine Blok Raffaella Cribiore Michael Gagarin Mark Griffith Andr Lardinois Richard Martin Lisa Maurizio Laura McClure D M O Higgins Patricia Rosenmeyer Marilyn Skinner Eva Stehle and Nancy Worman

The Power of Memory in Democratic Politics Philip J. Brendese, 2014 Offers an examination of ancient modern and contemporary political theories and practices in order to develop a more expansive way of conceptualizing memory how political power influences the presence of the past and memory's ongoing impact on democratic horizons

Unarchived Histories Gyanendra Pandey, 2013-12-17 For some time now scholars have recognized the archive less as a neutral repository of documents of the past and rather more as a politically interested representation of it and recognized that the very act of archiving is accompanied by a process of unarchiving Michel Foucault pointed to madness as describing one limit of reason history and the archive This book draws attention to another boundary marked not by exile but by the ordinary and everyday yet trivialized or trifling It is the status of being exiled within by prejudices procedures activities and interactions so fundamental as to not even be noticed that marks the unarchived histories investigated in this volume Bringing together contributions covering South Asia North and South America and North Africa this innovative analysis presents novel interpretations of unfamiliar sources and insightful reconsiderations of well known materials that lie at the centre of many current debates on history and the archive web a greedy algorithm employing the master theorem the solution to the recurrence $T(n) = 4T(n/2) + cn$ is $\Theta(n^2)$ $\Theta(n^2 \log n)$ $\Theta(cn)$ the master theorem can't be applied here we have one algorithm for processing customer records with run time of $O(n)$ and another with run time of $O(\lg n)$ 2500 in what circumstances might we want to
