Race David Mamet, 2013-12-02 There is nothing a white person can say to a black person about race. Race is the most incendiary topic in our history and the moment it comes out you cannot close the lid on that box. Sparks fly when three lawyers and a defendant clash over the issue of race and the American judicial system. As they prepare for a court case they must face the fundamental questions that everyone fears to ask: What is race? What is guilt? What happens when the crimes of the past collide with the transgressions of the present? Drawing on one of the most highly charged issues of American history, David Mamet forces us to confront deep-seated prejudices and barely healed wounds in this unflinching examination of the lies we tell ourselves and the truths we unwillingly reveal to others. Race was first seen in New York at the Ethel Barrymore Theatre on December 6, 2009, directed by David Mamet. It receives its UK premiere at the Hampstead Theatre on 23 May 2013.

Plays David Mamet, 1996 A Life with No Joy in It, and Other Plays and Pieces David Mamet, 1994 THE STORIES In ALMOST DONE a young mother reflects on the stories she will pass down to her child. In MONOLOGUE FEBRUARY 1990 the speaker runs a gamut of thoughts leading up to the condemnation of self and questions over the past.

Chicago Frederik Byrn Køhlert, 2021-09-23 Chicago occupies a central position in both the geography and literary history of the United States. From its founding in 1833 through to its modern incarnation the city has served as both a thoroughfare for the nation's goods and a crossroads for its cultural energies. The idea of Chicago as a crossroads of modern America is what guides this literary history which traces how writers have responded to a rapidly changing urban environment and labored to make sense of its place in and implications for the larger whole. In writing that engages with the world's first skyscrapers and elevated railroads, extreme economic and racial inequality, a growing middle class, ethnic and multiethnic neighborhoods, the Great Migration of African Americans, and the city's contemporary incarnation as a cosmopolitan urban center, Chicago has been home to a diverse literature that has both captured and guided the themes of modern America.

David Mamet's Glengarry Glen Ross Leslie Kane, 2000 This collection of essays and reviews represents the most significant and comprehensive writing on Shakespeare's A Comedy of Errors. Miola's edited work also features a comprehensive critical history coupled with a full bibliography and photographs of major productions of the play from around the world. In the collection there are five previously unpublished essays. The topics covered in these new essays are women in the play, the play's debt to contemporary theater, its critical and performance histories in Germany and Japan, the metrical variety of the play, and the distinctly modern perspective on the play as containing dark and disturbing elements. To compliment these new essays, the collection features significant scholarship and commentary on The Comedy of Errors that is published in obscure and difficult-to-accessible journals, newspapers, and other sources. known figures are discussed in essays ranging from 2 000 to 5 000 words Each essay examines the life of the author in the context of his or her times looking in detail at key works and describing the arc of the writer s career These essays include an assessment of the writer s current reputation with a bibliography of major works by the writer as well as a list of major critical and biographical works about the writer under discussion A second key element of the project is the critical assessments of major American masterworks such as Moby Dick Song of Myself Walden The Great Gatsby The Waste Land Their Eyes Were Watching God Death of a Salesman or Beloved Each of these essays offers a close reading of the given work placing that work in its historical context and offering a range of possibilities with regard to critical approach These fifty essays ranging from 2 000 to 5 000 words are simply and clearly enough written that an intelligent high school student should easily understand them but sophisticated enough that a college student or general reader in a public library will find the essays both informative and stimulating The final major element of this encyclopedia consists of fifty odd essays on literary movements periods or themes pulling together a broad range of information and making interesting connections These essays treat many of the same authors already discussed but in a different context they also gather into the fold authors who do not have an entire essay on their work so that Zane Grey for example is discussed in an essay on Western literature but does not have an essay to himself In this way the project is truly encyclopedic in the conventional sense These essays aim for comprehensiveness without losing anything of the narrative force that makes them good reading in their own right In a very real fashion the literature of the American people reflects their deepest desires aspirations fears and fantasies The Oxford Encyclopedia of American Literature gathers a wide range of information that illumines the field itself and clarifies many of its particulars

Public Issues, Private Tensions Matthew Charles Roudané, 1993 Public Issues Private Tensions suggests the intellectual scope and esthetic parameters of this book a critical exploration of the public issues and private tensions that seem central to American drama and theater since 1945 The critical point of departure for these seventeen essayists is the delicate moral balance between the civic function of the theater and its relationship to the spirit of the individual Playwrights observed include Tennessee Williams Arthur Miller Edward Albee Lillian Hellman Sam Shepard David Mamet David Rabe Lanford Wilson Wallace Shawn Megan Terry Denise Hamilton Maria Irene Fornes Arthur Kopit Emily Mann Israel Horovitz Charles Fuller and others Some of the contributors address questions of performance theory audience reception semiotics and theater and feminist ideology
