

MID-AMERICAN CHANTS

SHERWOOD ANDERSON

¶ I do not believe that the people of mid-western America, immersed as we are in affairs, hurried and hurried through life by the terrible engine—industrialism—have come to the time of song. To me it seems that song belongs with age and has its birth in the memory of older things than we know.

¶ In Middle America men are awakening. Like awkward and untrained boys we begin to turn toward maturity and with our awakening we hunger for song. But in our towns and fields there are no memory-haunted places.

¶ For this book of chants I ask only that it be allowed to stand stark against the background of my own place and generation. In secret a million men and women are trying, as I have tried here, to express the hunger within and I have dared to put these chants forth only because I hope and believe they may find an answering and clearer call in the hearts of other Mid-Americans.
