Midwinter Spring Susan Coupland,1984-01-01 Beginning to Pray in Old Age Susan Coupland,1985 Theology,1985 The New Beacon ,1989 Communion, Covenant, and Creativity Brian Haymes,Richard L. Kidd,2020-03-16 This book is a follow up to a previous volume by the same three authors Baptists and the Communion of Saints A Theology of Covenanted Disciples though it does not require familiarity with the first study The present book offers new perspectives on belief in the communion of saints by interpreting it through the idea of covenant with its two dimensions of relations with God and with each other Giving attention to the creative arts of painting music poetry and story writing the authors explore indications of a hidden communion of saints through embodiment memory and connectivity Included are studies of the work of visual artists Paul Nash and Mark Rothko musicians John Tavener Elgar and Brahms and writers Thomas Hardy T S Eliot and James Joyce Theological reflection on these hints of communion offers a vision of an ongoing communion of prayer with the saints alive and dead which does not depend on a dualistic idea of a disembodied soul existing after death but which affirms the Christian tradition of the resurrection of the body Communion covenant and creativity are thus linked to develop a Christian aesthetics based on a mutual indwelling between the triune God and the world God and Being George Pattison,2013-03-29 Western theology has long regarded Being as a category pre eminently applicable to God the supreme Being who is also the source of all existence This idea was challenged in the later philosophy of Martin Heidegger and identified with the position he called ontotheology Heidegger s critique was repeated and radicalized in so called postmodern thought to the point that many theologians and philosophers of religion now want to talk instead of God as beyond Being or without Being Against this background God and Being attempts to look again at why the ideas of God and Being got associated in the first place and to investigate whether the critique of ontotheology really does require us to abandon this link After exploring how this apparently abstract idea has informed Christian views of salvation and of the relationship between God and world George Pattison examines how such categories as time space language human relationships and embodiment affect our understanding of God and Being Pattison concludes that whilst Heidegger s critique has considerable force it remains legitimate to speak of God as Being under certain restricted conditions The most important of these is that God is better conceived in terms of purely possible Being rather than as in classic Christian theology actual Being This leaves open possibilities of dialogue with e g non theistic religious traditions and with science that are foreclosed by traditional conceptions Ultimately however all basic religious ideas must issue from and be seen to serve the requirements of embodied love British Book News British Council,1984 Adorno and "A Writing of the Ruins" James Martin Harding,1997-01-01 Extends critical discussion of Adorno to works by Samuel Beckett T S Eliot Ralph Ellison and Amiri Baraka arguing that Adorno s work can best be assessed in terms of its relevance in specific localized contexts The Congregationalist and Christian World ,1906 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,1979 Paths to the Personal R.
