Migrants Road:

Migrant Aesthetics Glenda R. Carpio, 2023-10-31 Co winner 2024 Matei Calinescu Prize Modern Language Association By most accounts immigrant literature deals primarily with how immigrants struggle to adapt to their adopted countries Its readers have come to expect stories of identity formation of how immigrants create ethnic communities and maintain ties to countries of origin Yet such narratives can center exceptional stories of individual success or obscure the political forces that uproot millions of people the world over Glenda R Carpio argues that we need a new paradigm for migrant fiction Migrant Aesthetics shows how contemporary authors Teju Cole Dinaw Mengestu Aleksandar Hemon Valeria Luiselli Julie Otsuka and Junot Diaz expose the historical legacies and political injustices that produce forced migration through artistic innovation Their fiction rejects the generic features of immigrant literature especially the acculturation plot and the use of migrant narrators as cultural guides who must appeal to readerly empathy They emphasize the limits of empathy insisting instead that readers recognize their own roles in the realities of migration which like climate change is driven by global inequalities Carpio traces how these authors create literary echoes of the past showing how the history of neo colonialism links distinct immigrant experiences and can lay the foundation for cross ethnic migrant solidarity Revealing how migration shapes and is shaped by language and narrative Migrant Aesthetics casts fiction as vital testimony to past and present colonial imperial and structural displacement and violence

The Figure of the Migrant in Contemporary European Cinema Temenuga Trifonova, 2020-07-09 The Figure of the Migrant in Contemporary European Cinema explores contemporary debates around the concepts of Europe and European identity through an examination of recent European films dealing with various aspects of globalization the refugee crisis labour migration the resurgence of nationalism and ethnic violence neoliberalism post colonialism with a particular attention to the figure of the migrant and the ways in which this figure challenges us to rethink Europe and its core Enlightenment values citizenship justice ethics liberty tolerance and hospitality in a post national context of ephemerality volatility and contingency that finds people desperately looking for firmer markers of identity The book argues that a compelling case can be made for re orienting the study of contemporary European cinema around the figure of the migrant viewed both as a symbolic figure representing post national citizenship urbanization the gap between ethics and justice and as a figure occupying an increasingly central place in European cinema in general rather than only in what is usually called migrant and diasporic cinema By drawing attention to the structural and affective affinities between the experience of migrants and non migrants Europeans and non Europeans Trifonova shows that it is becoming increasingly difficult to separate stories about migration from stories about life under neoliberalism in general

Spatial Mobility of Migrant Workers in Beijing, China Ran Liu, 2015-03-30 The great migration of farmers leaving rural China to work and live in big cities as floaters has been an on going debate in China for the past three decades This book probes into the spatial mobility of migrant workers in Beijing and questions the city rights issues beneath the city making movement in contemporary China In revealing and explaining the socio spatial injustice this volume re theorizes the right to the city in the Chinese context since Deng Xiaoping s reforms The policy review census analysis and housing survey are conducted to examine the fate of migrant workers who being the most marginalized group have to move persistently as the city expands and modernizes itself The study also compares the migrant workers with local Pekinese dislocated by inner city renewals and city expansion activities Rapid urban growth and land expropriation of peripheral farmlands have also created a by product of urbanization an informal property development by local farmers in response to rising low cost rental housing demand This is a highly comparable phenomenon with cities in other newly industrialized countries such as S o Paulo Readers will be provided with a good basis in understanding the interplay as well as conflicts between migrant workers housing rights and China s globalizing and branding pursuits of its capital city Audience This book will be of great interest to researchers and policy makers in housing planning governance towards urban informalities rights to the city migrant control and management and housing related conflict resolutions in China today

Migrant Labour and the Reshaping of Employment Law Bernard Ryan,Rebecca Zahn,2023-04-20 The presence of migrant workers has become a central feature of labour markets in highly developed countries The International Labour Organisation estimates that in 2013 there were 112 million resident migrant workers in the 58 highest income countries who made up 16% of the workforce Non resident workers have also increasingly become part of the labour available for employment in other states often on a temporary basis This work takes a thematic and comparative approach to examine the profound implications of contemporary labour migration for employment law regimes in highly developed countries In so doing it aims to promote greater recognition of labour migration related questions and of the interests of migrant workers within employment law scholarship The work comprises original analyses by leading scholars of migration and employment law at the European Union level and in Australia Canada Germany Italy the Netherlands Spain the United Kingdom and the United States The specific position of migrant workers is addressed for example as regards equality of treatment or the position in employment law of migrant workers without a right to work The work also explores the effects of migration levels and patterns upon general employment law including the law relating to collective bargaining and remedies against exploitation
