Global Justice and Desire Nikita Dhawan, Antke Engel, Christoph H.E. Holzhey, Volker Woltersdorff, 2015-05-15 Employing feminist queer and postcolonial perspectives Global Justice and Desire addresses economy as a key ingredient in the dynamic interplay between modes of subjectivity signification and governance Bringing together a range of international contributors the book proposes that both analyzing justice through the lens of desire and considering desire through the lens of justice are vital for exploring economic processes A variety of approaches for capturing the complex and dynamic interplay of justice and desire in socioeconomic processes are taken up But acknowledging a complexity of forces and relations of power domination and violence sometimes cohering and sometimes contradictory it is the relationship between hierarchical gender arrangements relations of exploitation and their colonial histories that is stressed Therefore queer feminist and postcolonial perspectives intersect as Global Justice and Desire explores their capacity to contribute to more just and more desirable economies

Lesbian and Gay Parenting Yvette Taylor, 2009-07-30 Much current work on lesbian and gay kinship still overlooks the significance of socio economic status This book explores the intersections between class and sexuality in lesbians and gay men's experiences of parenting and the everyday pathways navigated therein from initial routes into parenting and household divisions of labour to location preferences schooling choice and community supports In a context of international legal changes this study seeks to situate parents as both sexual and classed subjects interrogating the relevance of class and sexual disadvantages. Frequently lesbian and gay families are positioned at the vanguard of transformations in intimacy while often empirically absent in such declarations they are misplaced in this dual over emphasis as agents of social change and sidelining under investigated when compared to the research on heterosexual families. This book utilizes the concept of social capital combining a Bourdieusian notion of capital as specifically classed alongside that evidenced in the families of choice literature. The theoretical opposition of different frameworks of social capital advances class conceptualisations exploring too the ways that middle classed capitals sometimes do not pay off as a result of occupying non normative sexualities.

Cultural Studies and the Working Class Sally Munt, 2000 This work challenges the field of British cultural studies to return to the question of social class as a primary focus of study. The chapters examine contemporary working class life and its depiction in the media through a number of case studies on topics such as popular cinema football romance magazines and club culture. The essays pose methodologies for understanding working class responses to dominant culture and explore the contradictions and limitations of the traditional Marxist model. The book's contributors conclude that it is time for cultural theorists to revisit issues of working class cultural formations and to renew the original radical intentions of the discipline by reintegrating class analysis into social templates of race sexuality and gender
