Reconceptualizing The Family In A Changing Southern African Environment:

Reconceptualizing the Family in a Changing Southern African Environment Sara C. Mvududu, Patricia McFadden, 2001 This admirable wide ranging study grapples fearlessly with the mammoth topic of the Southern African family and in particular the positions and identities of women within the family and their rights Issues broached include women's access to land and physical resources human resources as a survival strategy the intersection of family law rights and resources methodological perspectives and the family as site for social transformation There is an explicit political and feminist agenda and urgent aim to encourage the reader to rethink the family to reconceptualise its meaning and contribute to the debate that surrounds the next phase of societies in change The narrative propels the reader along in the genuine anticipation that despite difficulties new ground is breaking and new ideas emerging which will interest firstly the Southern African woman but equally anyone interested in the topical and contentious issue of the family and its possibilities

Citizenship in Africa Bronwen Manby, 2018-11-29 Citizenship in Africa provides a comprehensive exploration of nationality laws in Africa placing them in their theoretical and historical context It offers the first serious attempt to analyse the impact of nationality law on politics and society in different African states from a trans continental comparative perspective Taking a four part approach Parts I and II set the book within the framework of existing scholarship on citizenship from both sociological and legal perspectives and examine the history of nationality laws in Africa from the colonial period to the present day Part III considers case studies which illustrate the application and misapplication of the law in practice and the relationship of legal and political developments in each country Finally Part IV explores the impact of the law on politics and its relevance for questions of identity and belonging today concluding with a set of issues for further research Ambitious in scope and compelling in analysis this is an important new work on citizenship in Africa
