Reconfiguration Heroes From Outerspace:

Screen Space Reconfigured Susanne Saether, Synne Tollerud Bull, 2025-10-01 Screen Space Reconfigured is the first edited volume that critically and theoretically examines the many novel renderings of space brought to us by 21st century screens Exploring key cases such as post perspectival space 3D vertical framing haptics and layering this volume takes stock of emerging forms of screen space and spatialities as they move from the margins to the centre of contemporary media practice Recent years have seen a marked scholarly interest in spatial dimensions and conceptions of moving image culture with some theorists claiming that a spatial turn has taken place in media studies and screen practices alike Yet this is the first book length study dedicated to on screen spatiality as such Spanning mainstream cinema experimental film video art mobile screens and stadium entertainment the volume includes contributions from such acclaimed authors as Giuliana Bruno and Tom Gunning as well as a younger generation of scholars

The Hero Building Johnny Rodger, 2016-03-09 Why was it that across Scotland over the last two and a half centuries architectural monuments were raised to national heroes Were hero buildings commissioned as manifestations of certain social beliefs or as a built environmental form of social advocacy And if so then how and why were social aims and intentions translated into architectural form and how effective were they A tradition of building architectural monuments to commemorate national heroes developed as a distinctive feature of the Scottish built environment As concrete manifestations of powerful social and political currents of thought and opinion these hero buildings make important statements about identity the nation and social history The book examines this architectural culture by studying a prominent selection of buildings such as the Burns monuments in Alloway Edinburgh and Kilmarnock the Edinburgh Scott Monument the Glenfinnan Monument and the Wallace Monument in Stirling They give testimony to how a variety of architectural forms and styles can be adapted through time to bear particular social messages of symbolic weight This tradition which literally allows us to dwell on important social issues of the past has been somewhat neglected in serious architectural history and heritage and indeed one of the main monuments has already been destroyed By raising awareness of this rich architectural and social heritage while analysing and interpreting the buildings in their historical context this book makes an exciting and original scholarly contribution to the current debates on identity and nationality taking place in Scotland and the wider UK

The Returning Hero Simon Hornblower, Giulia Biffis, 2018-09-13 A recurring and significant theme in ancient Greek literature is that of returns and returning chiefly but by no means only of mythical Greek heroes from Troy One main and certainly the most marked ancient Greek word for return is nostos plural nostoi from which is derived the English nostalgia Nostos related traditions were important ingredients of colonial foundation myths and the theme runs through both ancient Greek prose and poetry from Homer's Odyssey to Lykophron's Alexandra also leaving traces in the historical record through the archaeological and epigraphical commemoration of nostoi which played a central part in defining Greek ethnicity and crystallizing personal and communal identities This volume offers a truly interdisciplinary exploration of the concept of nostos in ancient Greek culture which draws on its contributors expertise in ancient Greek and Roman history literature archaeology and religion The chapters examine both literary and material evidence in order to achieve a better understanding of the nature of Greek settlement in the Mediterranean zone and of sometimes equivocal Greek and Roman perceptions of home displacement and returning The special problems and vocabulary of exile are explored in the long Introduction which offers an incisive yet accessible overview of the volume s key themes and sets its range of contributions clearly in context while two chapters are concerned in different ways with emotions and personal identity making use of the theoretical tool of place attachment another demonstrates that failed nostoi can be more interesting than successful examples Evidential absence can be as important and illuminating as presence and mythical women underrepresented in this regard feature extensively in several chapters which open up a range of new perspectives on nostos

Into the Extreme Valerie Olson,2018-05-22 The first book length in depth ethnography of U S human spaceflight What if outer space is not outside the human environment but rather defines it This is the unusual starting point of Valerie Olson s Into the Extreme revealing how outer space contributes to making what counts as the scope and scale of today s natural and social environments With unprecedented access to spaceflight worksites ranging from astronaut training programs to life science labs and architecture studios Olson examines how U S experts work within the solar system as the container of life and as a vast site for new forms of technical and political environmental control Olson s book shifts our attention from space s political geography to its political ecology showing how scientists physicians and engineers across North America collaborate to build the conceptual and nuts and bolts systems that connect Earth to a specifically ecosystemic cosmos This cosmos is being redefined as a competitive space for potential economic resources social relations and political strategies Showing how contemporary U S environmental power is bound up with the production of national technical and scientific access to outer space Into the Extreme brings important new insights to our understanding of modern environmental history and politics At a time when the boundaries of global ecologies and economies extend far below and above Earth s surface Olson s new analytic frameworks help us understand how varieties of outlying spaces are known made and organized as kinds of environments whether terrestrial or beyond Cosmodolphins Mette Bryld, Nina Lykke, 2000-01-02 Applying thinking on gender and the environment to research on science and technology this is an analysis of contemporary categorizations of human self versus wild other through three 20th century icons spaceships horoscopes and dolphins My

Time in Space Tim Robinson, 2001 The author considers the different sorts of space that have outcropped his life as a student of geometry an abstract artist cartographer environmentalist topographical writer etc It is less an autobiography than a series of walks on the bank of a river of untold tales One of these essays Firewalking has previously been published in The Recorder New York Fall 1999 The Dark Mirror Lutz Koepnick, 2002-10-03 Lutz Koepnick s The Dark Mirror provides one of the finest most compelling and suggestive accounts to date of the multiple locations of German cinema between Hitler and Hollywood Charting the shifting relationships between institutional contexts and individual acts of reception Koepnick persuasively shows how the German cinema and its filmmakers both in exile and in Nazi Germany contributed to a fragile stratified indeed nonsynchronous public sphere Patrice Petro author of Aftershocks of the New Feminism and Film History Lutz Koepnick s brilliant study debunks the received wisdom concerning Nazi German and Hollywood film of the 1930s and 40s Using detailed analyses of 8 films with special focus on sound and music he insists upon the disjointed contexts and uneven relationships of American and German filmmaking Historically nuanced and theoretically savvy this remarkable book offers something for everyone Americanists Germanists historians students of cinema sound and music those interested in debates between art and popular forms and European and Hollywood production Caryl Flinn author of Strains of Utopia

Science Fiction and the Moral Imagination Russell Blackford, 2017-09-05 In this highly original book Russell Blackford discusses the intersection of science fiction and humanity s moral imagination With the rise of science and technology in the 19th century and our continually improving understanding of the cosmos writers and thinkers soon began to imagine futures greatly different from the present Science fiction was born out of the realization that future technoscientific advances could dramatically change the world Along with the developments described in modern science fiction space societies conscious machines and upgraded human bodies to name but a few come a new set of ethical challenges and new forms of ethics Blackford identifies these issues and their reflection in science fiction His fascinating book will appeal to anyone with an interest in philosophy or science fiction or in how they interact This is a seasoned balanced analysis of a major issue in our thinking about the future seen through the lens of science fiction a central art of our time Everyone from humanists to technologists should study these ideas and examples Blackford s book is wise and savvy and a delight to read as well Greg Benford author of Timescape The First Institutional Spheres in Human Societies Seth Abrutyn,Jonathan Turner,2022-03-15 Few concepts are as central to sociology as institutions Yet like so many sociological concepts institutions remain vaguely defined This book expands a foundational definition of the institution one which locates them as the basic building blocks of human societies as structural and cultural machines for survival that make it possible to pass precious knowledge from one generation to the next ensuring the survival of our species The book extends this classic tradition by first applying advances in biological evolution neuroscience and primatology to explain the origins of human societies and in particular the first institutional sphere kinship The authors incorporate insights from natural sciences often marginalized in sociology while highlighting the limitations of purely biogenetic Darwinian explanations Secondly they build a vivid conceptual model of institutions and their central dynamics as the book charts the chronological evolution of kinship polity religion law and economy discussing the biological evidence for the ubiquity of these institutions as evolutionary adaptations themselves Proceedings of the Fourth Annual L5 Space Development Conference Frank Hecker,1987 Science and Technology Series ,1987 Film Musings Royal S. Brown,2007 Film Musings is not intended as a guide for collectors although many of the recordings discussed are still available but rather to open new horizons in a unique art form

BOOK JACKET Screening China Yingjin Zhang,2002 Yingjin Zhang guides the reader through the development of Chinese film criticism pointing out that Western critics have studied a comparatively small number of films from a much larger body of work often with a unidirectional Eurocentric bias The result has been that the few have influenced the many perpetuating a cycle of production of films from China that bow to the Western notion of Chineseness As a corrective the author introduces readers to a much larger canon of film and proposes a multidirectional model of film studies one that allows for a Western reading of Chinese film yet also recognizes Chinese cinema s own voice Yingjin Zhang is Professor of Chinese Literature and Film Comparative Literature and Cultural Studies at University of California San Diego Film Geoff Andrew,2001 In this guide ten leading film critics select 15 key movies from a specific genre from silent movies to animation Critics describe each film in an essay covering who made it why its artistic features technical interest why they chose it
