Midwifery in China Ngai Fen Cheung, Rosemary Mander, 2018-06-27 The first book to present the history ideas life and works of Chinese midwives and birth attendants this volume seeks to encapsulate and explain the changing ideas about the practice of midwifery in China Using participant observations and interviews it examines each phase of the development of midwifery in depth Providing a systematic study of the existing literature and contemporary national health policies it analyses the factors contributing to the current demise of midwifery in China such as the absence of national regulation high standards of education and national midwives associations Furthermore it argues that China's national statistics in the past six decades demonstrate clear evidence that minimising maternal mortality rates will only happen through wider availability of services rather than through obstetric technology or facility based care Ultimately therefore this book supports the view that humanity and midwifery will survive to overcome domination by both technology and market forces and that economic growth and medical technology alone will not be sufficient in providing effective healthcare This book is an indispensable resource for the study of Chinese midwifery both in theory and in practice As such it will be useful to students and scholars of Midwifery Women's Health Sociology and culture and society in China

Midwifery and the Medicalization of Childbirth Edwin R. Van Teijlingen, 2004 This book provides an introduction to the sociological study of midwifery The readings have been selected to highlight the interplay between midwifery and medicine reflecting the medicalization of childbirth It highlights the major themes in both a historical and a current context as well as western and non western societies Two major themes underlie the organization of this book that the conception of midwifery must be broadened to encompass a sociological perspective and that the ongoing trend toward the medicalization of midwifery is crucial to an understanding of the historical current and future status of midwifery By medicalization of childbirth and midwifery the author mean the increasing tendency for women to prefer a hospital delivery to a home delivery the increasing trend toward the use of technology and clinical intervention in childbirth and the determination of medical practitioners to confine the role played by midwives in pregnancy and childbirth if any to a purely subordinate one
