Recontextualizing Texts Atsuko Sakaki, 1999 Offering the first systematic examination of five modern Japanese fictional narratives all of them available in English translations Atsuko Sakaki explores Natsume S seki s Kokoro and The Three Cornered World Ibuse Masuji s Black Rain Mori gai s Wild Geese and Tanizaki Jun ichir s Quicksand The Structuring of Pedagogic Discourse Basil Bernstein, 2004-11-23 This book represents part of an ongoing effort to understand the rules practices agencies and agents which shape and change the social construction of pedagogic discourse It draws together and re examines the findings of the author s earlier work Multimodality and Classroom Languaging Dynamics Dan Shi, 2021-09-27 This practical analytical guide to classroom languaging dynamics in L2 tertiary classrooms integrates multimodality sociological theory of education and ecosocial semiotic perspectives It offers a theoretical and methodological framework for conducting multimodal analysis of meaning making processes in different pedagogical settings The multimodal investigation of real time classroom interactivity showcases an embodied coordination of vocalization and gesticulation in classroom interactions where it varies from students solo speech in individual presentations to teacher student interactions in group discussions and to student student interactions in role play With a unified conceptual framework articulating both the macro and micro analysis this book proposes more ecological based approaches to language and unpacks a multi scalar analytical framework to open up for an embodied analysis of meaning making processes in multimodal interaction analysis The rich systematic analysis built upon the ecosocial semiotic approach illustrates in practice how theoretical frameworks link to empirical data analysis through exemplified analytical processes and practices and demonstrates the value of how multimodal interaction analysis contributes to the understanding of the cognitive dynamics of languaging activities that take place in L2 educational contexts The book provides not only a practical methodological guide to multimodal interaction analysis but also hands on analytical references to multimodal classroom research in the field In addition to early career scholars and PhD students this volume will be valuable for international academics looking for complementary frameworks or approaches to multimodality particularly in the L2 Asian contexts Language Policy D. Johnson, 2013-07-29 A detailed overview of the theories concepts research methods and findings in the field of language policy is provided here in one accessible source The author proposes new methodological theoretical and conceptual directions and offers guidance for doing language policy research Suicidal Honor Doris G. Borgen, 2006-09-30 On September 13 1912 the day of Emperor Meiji s funeral General Nogi Maresuke committed ritual suicide by seppuku disembowelment It was an act of delayed atonement that paid a debt of honor incurred thirty five years earlier The revered military hero s wife joined in his act of junshi following one s lord into death The violence of their double suicide shocked the nation What had impelled the general and his wife on the threshold of a new era to resort so drastically so dramatically to this forbidden anachronistic practice The nation was divided There were those who saw the suicides as a heroic affirmation of the samurai code others found them a cause for embarrassment a sign that Japan had not yet crossed the cultural line separating tradition from modernity While acknowledging the nation's sharply divided reaction to the Nogi's junshi as a useful indicator of the event's seismic impact on Japanese culture Doris G. Bergen in the first half of her book demonstrates that the deeper significance of Nogi's action must be sought in his personal history enmeshed as it was in the tumultuous politics of the Meiji period Suicidal Honor traces Nogi's military career and personal travail through the armed struggles of the collapsing shogunate and through the two wars of imperial conquest during which Nogi played a significant role the Sino-Japanese War 1894-1895 and the Russo-Japanese War 1904-1905 It also probes beneath the political to explore the religious origins of ritual self-sacrifice in cultures as different as ancient Rome and today's Nigeria Seen in this context Nogi's death was homage to the divine emperor But what was the significance of Nogi's waiting thirty-five years before he offered himself as a human sacrifice to a dead rather than living deity To answer this question Bergen delves deeply and with great insight into the story of Nogi's conflicted career as a military hero who longed to be a peaceful man of letters In the second half of Suicidal Honor Bergen turns to the extraordinary influence of the Nogi's death on two of Japan's greatest writers Mori Gai and Natsume Soseki Gai's historical fiction written in the immediate aftermath of his friend's junshi is a profound meditation on the significance of ritual suicide in a time of historical transition Stories such as The Sakai Incident Sakai jiken appear in a new light and with greatly enhanced resonance in Bergen's interpretation In Soseki's masterpiece Kokoro Sensei the protagonist refers to the emperor's death and his general's junshi before taking his own life Scholars routinely mention these references but Bergen demonstrates convincingly the uncanny ways in which Soseki's agonized response to Nogi's suicide structures the entire novel By exploring the historical and literary legacies of Nogi Gai and Soseki from an interdisciplinary perspective Suicidal Honor illuminates Japan's prolonged and painful transition from the idealized heroic world of samurai culture to the mundane anxieties of modernity It is a study that will fascinate specialists in the fields of Japanese literature history and religion and anyone seeking a deeper understanding of Japan's warrior culture

Rethinking and Recontextualizing Glosses Patrizia Lendinara, Loredana Lazzari, Claudia Di Sciacca, Fédération internationale des instituts d'études médiévales, 2011 Glossing was a scribal practice in use since antiquity but it was in the Middle Ages that it acquired a wider meaning and a different role becoming one of the most widespread forms of literacy in the Germanic West including the British Isles Most of the essays collected in this volume focus on the late Anglo Saxon period that is a well identified time frame spanning from the Benedictine Reform to the eleventh century As recent scholarship has convincingly established the second half of the tenth century and the beginning of the eleventh saw the blooming of Anglo Saxon scholarship and a remarkable advance in educational practices Within this cultural resurgence glossing undoubtedly played no small role and was particularly vital in centres such as Abingdon Canterbury and Winchester In the contributions to the present volume the relationship between glosses and the text they accompany is always explored on the basis of their manuscript context The essays are devoted to both Latin and Old English apparatuses of glosses as well as to specific items of the Old Norse and Old Saxon glossarial production

Re-examining the Cold War Robert S. Ross, Changbin Jiang, 2001 The twelve essays in this volume underscore the similarities between Chinese and American approaches to bilateral diplomacy and between their perceptions of each other's policy making motivations Much of the literature on U S China relations posits that each side was motivated either by ideologically informed interests or by ideological assumptions about its counterpart But as these contributors emphasize newly accessible archives suggest rather that both Beijing and Washington developed a responsive and tactically adaptable foreign policy Each then adjusted this policy in response to changing international circumstances and changing assessments of its counterpart's policies Motivated less by ideology than by pragmatic national security concerns each assumed that the other faced similar considerations
