Regionalism Multilateral2nd:

Regionalism, Multilateralism, and the Politics of Global Trade Donald Barry, Ronald C. Keith, 1999 The essays in this volume reflect the current debate about whether the new regionalism and interregional politics of the last decade support or undermine the global trading system Political scientists and international relations scholars from North America examine the changing relationship between regionalism and multilateralism and discuss the implications for national policy in the globalized economy The essays are arranged into four categories covering regionalism globalism and the state the dynamics of regional integration interregional relations and the policy implications particularly for Canada Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Regionalism and Multilateralism After the Uruguay Round Paul Demaret, Jean-François Bellis, Gonzalo García Jiménez, 1997 Analyses the relationship between regional trade agreements and multilateral trade regulation in the wake of the Uruguay Round held in Liege October 1996 The first part of the book is devoted to a comparative analysis of the major trade agreements in Europe the Americas and the Asia Pacific Area Covers also an emerging new form of inter regionalism The second part presents a comparative analysis of the treatment of selected issues under the major regional trade agreements in the world and their relation with existing or emerging multilateral rules Finally discusses the extent to which multilateral rules acted as a constraint on regional trade arrangements under the GATT or the new WTO

Regionalism versus Multilateralism L. Alan Winters, 1999 November 1996 Do the forces that regional integration arrangements set up encourage or discourage a trend toward globally freer trade We don t know yet The literature on regionalism versus multilateralism is growing as economists and political scientists grapple with the question of whether regional integration arrangements are good or bad for the multilateral system Are regional integration arrangements building blocks or stumbling blocks in Jagdish Bhagwati s phrase or stepping stones toward multilateralism As economists worry about the ability of the World Trade Organization to maintain the GATT s unsteady yet distinct momentum toward liberalism and as they contemplate the emergence of world scale regional integration arrangements the EU NAFTA FTAA APEC and possibly TAFTA the question has never been more pressing Winters switches the focus from the immediate consequences of regionalism for the economic welfare of the integrating partners to the question of whether it sets up forces that encourage or discourage evolution toward globally freer trade The answer is We don t know yet One can build models that suggest either conclusion but these models are still so abstract that they should be viewed as parables rather than sources of testable predictions Winters offers conclusions about research strategy as well as about the world we live in Among the conclusions he reaches Since we value multilateralism we had better work out what it means and if it means different things to different people make sure to identify the sense in which we are using the term Sector specific lobbies are a danger if regionalism is permitted because they tend to stop blocs from moving all the way to global free trade In the presence of lobbies trade diversion is good politics even if it is bad economics Regionalism s direct effect on multilateralism is important but possibly more so is the indirect effect it has by changing the ways in which groups of countries interact and respond to shocks in the world economy Regionalism by allowing stronger internalization of the gains from trade liberalization seems likely to facilitate freer trade when it is initially highly restricted The possibility of regionalism probably increases the risks of catastrophe in the trading system The insurance incentives for joining regional arrangements and the existence of shiftable externalities both lead to such a conclusion So too does the view that regionalism is a means to bring trade partners to the multilateral negotiating table because it is essentially coercive Using regionalism for this purpose may have been an effective strategy but it is also risky This paper a product of the International Trade Division International Economics Department was prepared for a conference on regional integration sponsored by the Centre for Economic Policy Research La Coru a Spain April 26 27 1996 and will appear in the conference proceedings Regionalism versus Multilateral Trade Arrangements Takatoshi Ito, Anne O. Krueger, 2007-12-01 There is no doubt that the open multilateral trading system after World War II was a key ingredient in the rapid economic development of the entire world Especially in Hong Kong Korea Singapore and Taiwan exports increased dramatically both in absolute terms and as a percentage of GNP In the 1980s however preferential trading arrangements PTAs began to emerge as significant factors affecting world trade This volume contains thirteen papers that analyze the tensions between multilateral trading systems and preferential trade arrangements and the impact of these tensions on East Asia The first four chapters introduce PTAs conceptually and focus on the unique political issues that these agreements involve The next five essays present more direct empirical analyses of existing PTAs and their economic effects primarily in East Asia The last four papers concentrate on the outcomes of individual East Asian nations trading policies in specific instances of preferential agreements Multilateralizing Regionalism Patrick Low, Richard Baldwin, 2009-02-19 A collection of revised papers from the Multilateralizing Regionalism conference held at the WTO in September 2007 The 2nd ASEAN Reader Sharon Siddique, Sree Kumar, 2003-10-17 A sequel to the first ASEAN Reader Some of the classic readings from the original ASEAN reader have been incorporated into this new compilation but the majority of the readings cover events of the past decade 1993 2003 During this decade ASEAN as an organization was revamped and its membership increased from six to ten Multilateralizing Regionalism Richard Baldwin, 2009 Regional trade agreements RTAs have proliferated around the world in the past two decades and now nearly all members of the WTO are party to at least one Besides tariffs and rules of origin regulating trade in goods many RTAs now include provisions on services investments technical barriers to trade and competition rules as well as a host of issues not directly related to trade The geographic reach of RTAs is expanding with transcontinental agreements spreading forcefully alongside intra regional agreements Multilateralizing Regionalism was the title of a major conference held from 10 12 September 2007 at the WTO in Geneva Brought together in this publication the conference papers achieve two things First they marshal detailed new empirical work on the nature of the Spaghetti Bowl and the problems it poses for the multilateral trade system Second they contribute fresh and creative thinking on how to tame the tangle of regional trade agreements

Regionalism and Multilateralism Oliver Fratzscher,1994 Multiregionalism and Multilateralism Sebastian Bersick,Paul van der Velde,Wim Stokhof,2025-10-01 The Asia Europe Meeting ASEM est 1996 is an interregional forum which consists of the members of the European Union and the Association of Southeast Asian Nations and China Japan and South Korea The main components of the ASEM process include political dialogue economy education and culture Multiregionalism and Multilateralism focuses on the institutionalisation of intra regional and inter regional cooperation in the international system with emphasis on the changing relationship between the EU China and India The role of ASEM in this relationship is growing more important because of the growth of multilateralism as cornerstone of the international system

Regionalism and the Multilateral Trading System ,2003 Regionalism and Its Place in the Multilateral Trading System Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development,1996 Regionalism Versus Multilateralism Christopher R. Thomas,Juliana T. Magloire,2000-09-30 In today s globalized international system international and regional organizations can only function effectively within the context of a larger social partnership with governments the private sectors and a plethora of increasingly influential interest groups Regionalism Versus Multilateralism seeks to illustrate these new roles by tracing the way the Organization of American States OAS the oldest regional organization has pursued its objectives in the context of evolving hemispheric and international circumstances It analyzes the impact of these circumstances on the operations programs and activities of the Organization and the adjustments and direction which metamorphosed the regional membership at certain crucial junctures of hemispheric and international evolution The book does so in three parts through an historic examination of the objectives of the Organization a critical analysis of its response over time to the forces of growth transformation and change and the projection of what continuing developments might dictate on the future characteristics of the Organization if it is to respond effectively to the needs and aspirations of member states This book is a collaboration between Christopher R Thomas and Julian T Magloire with both parties contributing equally to its content and preparation India's Foreign Policy and Regional Multilateralism Arndt

Michael,2013-02-07 The book provides a novel analytical perspective on regional multilateralism in South Asia and its neighbouring regions and covers the genesis evolution and status quo of the four major regional organizations The Politics of Economic Regionalism K. Cai,2010-01-20 While major theories of economic regionalism in the existing literature are primarily constructed to explore institutionalized regional integration European integration in particular the analytical framework developed in this work explains the unique process and pattern of regional integration in East Asia

Regionalism, Multilateralism, and Economic Integration Gary P. Sampson,Stephen Woolcock,2003 This publication considers whether regional trade agreements have led to a new form of economic co operation by promoting deeper integration in the regulatory structures of participating countries An examination of recent experiences are found to show that although there is no single model for deeper integration regional trade agreements have generally more effective than more remote WTO procedures in facilitating trade and improving transparency Regional processes and rules are found to have been consistent with the multilateral obligations of each party with additional commitments in the regional agreements complementing WTO rules

Effective Multilateralism Jochen Prantl, 2013-11-06 Existing theories of cooperation assume a stable geo political order led by countries with a shared conception of the modalities of cooperation These assumptions are no longer justified Effective Multilateralism makes the case for a new approach to explaining international cooperation through the lens of East Asian

International Trade and Investment Law Leal-Arcas, Rafael, 2010-05-28 This timely book examines international trade and investment law at various levels of governance including unilateral bilateral regional and multilateral arrangements

Regionalism and Multilateralism Amitav Acharya, 2003 These essays written between 1990 and 2000 cover the most significant phase of multilateral institution building in the Asia Pacific region They deal with the emergence of regionalism in Southeast Asia ASEAN s transition to the post Cold War era the role of the ASEAN Regional Forum the engagement of China the changing relationship between sovereignty and regionalism and prospects for the regional institutions such as ASEAN APEC and the ARF after the Asian economic crisis The essays address the most challenging issues of regional order and articulate an institutionalist understanding of international relations in the region This updated second edition includes four new chapters and two revised chapters
