Interior Interruptions Jean Whitehead, 2025-02-07 Interior Interruptions examines the role of the palimpsest and its relationship to narrative sustainability renovation and adaptive reuse By exploring storytelling palimpsestic characteristics and techniques the book argues that these devices play a central role in the consideration of the designed interior Narrative has a burgeoning relationship with the palimpsest and this approach embraces an aesthetic of incompleteness and imperfection as a site rich response It recognises the ongoing biography or heritage of a building as a form of transient architectural narrative that encourages reuse through the continual process of writing rewriting overwriting and unwriting This process has sustainable societal archaeological and textual connotations that can be interpreted as a process of layering whereby the architectural shell is viewed as a container a rich repository that is overlain by surface changes documents architectural and spatial modifications and is populated by interior fixtures and fittings that all unite to create an ever changing interior story Exploring case studies from the UK Netherlands Palestine Belgium Singapore Spain Portugal France Germany Brazil Japan USA and China and beautifully illustrated in full colour this book proposes that the act of interior renovation can be viewed as a perpetual form of revisionary storytelling re imagined as a series of temporal interior interruptions It is essential reading for students and professionals interested in the

Temporality and Film Analysis Matilda Mroz,2012-08-06

Matilda Mroz argues that cinema provides an ideal opportunity to engage with ideas of temporal flow and change

Temporality however remains an underexplored area of film analysis which frequently discusses images as though they were still rather than moving This book traces the operation of duration in cinema and argues that temporality should be a central concern of film scholarship In close readings of Michelangelo Antonioni s L Avventura Andrei Tarkovsky s Mirror and the ten short films that make up Krzysztof Kie lowski s Decalogue series Mroz highlights how film analysis must consider both particular moments in cinema which are critically significant and the way in which such moments interrelate in temporal flux She explores the concepts of duration and rhythm resonance and uncertainty affect sense and texture to bring a fresh perspective to film analysis and criticism Essential reading for students and scholars in Film Studies this engaging study will also be a valuable resource for critical theorists

The Distant Shores of Freedom Subarno Chattarji,2019-11-18

The Distant Shores of Freedom analyses literary works in English written by Vietnamese refugees in the US Fiction and memoirs by Vietnamese Americans recover stories and memories that are often different from mainstream American ones and that difference enables readers to think of the US war in Vietnam from perspectives that are missing in mainstream representations Dwelling not only on the war and its aftermaths Vietnamese American writings also ponder over the existential issues of exile the idea of home the pain of marginality and racism the question of community formation within the US and the complexity of diasporic lives Subarno Chattarji raises critical questions such as who gets to speak and write and to what ends and purposes Who reads Vietnamese American writings and how can we account for these publications in the US over a period of time What can and cannot be written or spoken What is remembered and what is silenced What traumas and memories are articulated These questions point towards a larger context of diaspora studies as well as the rituals of cultural memory that complicate our understanding of the Vietnam War and its aftermaths
