Using Technology to Promote Student Learning: Opportunities for Today and Tomorrow Cathy McHugh

Engstrom, Kevin W. Kruger, 1997-08-11 Current and emerging uses of technology can bring about qualitatively positive changes to the delivery of student services and the design of programs intended to promote student involvement and learning. Student affairs professionals need to grapple with many critical issues that have developed with the increased use of technology including strategic planning process needs, financial and infrastructure issues, policy implications, curricular issues for college student affairs, graduate programs, and ethical considerations. This volume of New Directions for Student Services explores these issues and provides strategies to envision and prepare for the unpredictable future in relation to the ever-changing information technology environment. This is the 78th issue of New Directions for Student Services. For more on the series, please see the Journals and Periodicals page.
