Howard,1883 Knife Skills Illustrated Peter Hertzmann,2007-07-24 Knives are the most common pieces of equipment in the kitchen yet few cooks know the basic techniques for effective carving chopping slicing and mincing Knife Skills Illustrated features over 300 step by step illustrations for right and left handed cooks and has exact instructions on how to do everything including mince onions julienne ginger bone trout and carve turkey It also shows how to select the best knives and cutting boards and how to maintain them A Text Book on the Palmer Technique of Chiropractic Bartlett Joshua Palmer,1920 Conference on Photographic Astrometric Technique Heinrich Karl Eichhorn,Heinrich Eichhorn,1971 Pathological Technique Frank Burr Mallory,James Homer Wright,1897 Short-story Technique Stewart Beach,1929 Laboratory Technique St. Luke's Hospital (New York, N.Y.),Lemuel William Famulener,Francis Carter Wood,Karl Max Vogel,1917 The Elements of Piano Technique Ernest Hutcheson,1907 Observations on the Technique Required in Field Experiments with Rice Henry Walter Jack,1921 Surgical Therapeutics and Operative Technique: Operations on the head (cont.) thorax, upper and lower limbs Eugene Louis Doyen,1918 Technique of Some South American Feather-work Charles Williams Mead,1907 But little attempt has been made to identify the particular kinds of feathers used in making the above described ornaments It may be said in a general way that the ancient Peruvians employed the feathers of the macaw and of many other varieties of the parrot family and occasionally in plumes of the larger head dresses those of the king vulture The Karaja Indians of Brazil use the plumage of the macaw in the greater part of their feather work although that of other birds not identified will be found In the work of the Chamacoccos and Guato of Paraguay feathers of the American ostrich Rhea and of different varieties of the parrot family are most commonly used In describing step by step the process of making the various feather attachments I have followed the order which seemed most natural but the same result could of course have often been reached by proceeding in a different order In comparing the different forms of attachments shown in the illustrations one striking difference will be seen between the methods of the ancient Peruvians and the work of such modern Indians as has been figured The former employ a true knot in every instance except in such cases as have the two parts wound together with thread In the modern work a loop or turn about the shaft takes the place of the knot Figs 1 a and 8 illustrate the difference between these two methods If a cord attached to a shaft as in Fig 1 a be slipped downward until free from the feather and then the ends drawn a knot will result but if we draw the ends of the cord in the form shown in Fig 8 the loop disappears and there is no knot A few words may be said regarding artificially colored feathers in the work of the South American Indians I have never been able to detect a single instance of their use among the ancient Peruvians and the custom would seem to be confined at the present day to a few localities Two ornaments have been described consisting of feathers stained red and purple by aniline dyes These were used by the Aymar Indians in the vicinity of La Paz Bolivia who have lived many years in close contact with the white man and have become well acquainted with his cheap dyes The use of these dyed feathers which have a particularly garish and unnatural appearance is I believe one evidence of the decadence which seems inevitable to Indians in their situation Primitive man even in his combinations of most brilliantly colored feathers seldom produces effects that offend the artistic eye P 17 The Technique of Surgical Gynecology Augustin H.
