Figurations Claudia Castañeda,2002-11-29 An interdisciplinary examination of debates surrounding the figure of the child in transnational politics and culture

Developments Erica Burman,2020-07-28 How does developmental psychology connect with what used to be called the developing world What do cultural representations indicate about the contemporary politics of childhood How is concern about child sexual exploitation linked to wider securitization anxieties In other words what is the political economy of childhood and how is this affectively organized This new edition of Developments Child Image Nation fully updated is a key conceptual intervention and resource reflecting further on the contexts and frameworks that tie children to national and international agendas A companion volume to Burman's Deconstructing Developmental Psychology third edition 2017 this volume helps explain why questions around children and childhood including their safety welfare their interests abilities sexualities and their violence have so preoccupied the late twentieth and twenty first centuries showing how the frames for these concerns have extended beyond their Euro US contexts of origination In this completely revised edition Burman explores changing debates and contexts offering resources for interpreting continuities and shifts in the complex terrain connecting children and development Through reflection on an increasingly globalised marketised world that prolongs previous colonial and gendered dynamics in new and even more insidious ways Developments analyses the conceptual paradigms shaping how we think about and work with children and recommends strategies for changing them Drawing in particular on feminist and post development literatures as well as original and detailed engagement with social theory it illustrates how and why reconceptualising notions of individual and human development including those informing models of children's rights and interests is needed to foster more just and equitable forms of professional practice with children and their families Burman offers an important contribution to a set of urgent debates engaging theory and method policy and practice across all the disciplines that work with or lay claim to children's interests Developments is an invaluable resource to teachers and students in psychology childhood studies and education as well as researchers in gender studies

Modern and Postmodern Strategies Monika Kilian, 1998 The postmodern notion of gaming as a legitimate method of philosophical inquiry opposes the either/or model of modern discourse Modern and Postmodern Strategies outlines the key issues informing the debate between modern and postmodern thought and focuses on the postmodern contention that the universalizing strategies of modern thought are cognitively and morally wrong This study uses a range of theorists to explore the implications of monism and pluralism By using the work of the poet Hans Magnus Enzensberger the author demonstrates that literary texts can function alongside and often illuminate the philosophical arguments between modern and postmodern thought

What is Post-Modernism? Charles Jencks, 1996-06-13 Consideration of the concept as it relates to the arts and literature

Heterology and the Postmodern Julian Pefanis, 1991 In Heterology and the Postmodern Julian Pefanis presents a new view of the history of poststructuralism heterology and the origins of postmodernism by analyzing three important French theorists Georges Bataille Jean Baudrillard and Jean Fran ois Lyotard Beginning with the introduction of Hegel in French postmodernist thought largely but not exclusively through the thought of Georges Bataille Pefanis argues that the core problematics of postmodern aesthetics history exchange representation and writing are related to Bataille s reconceptualization of the Hegelian framework Pefanis explores how Bataille was influenced by Hegel Marcel Mauss Freud and Nietzsche and traces the effects of this influence on the analyses and critiques of later postmodernists most notably Lyotard and Baudrillard Finally employing these postmodernists along with Freud and Jacques Lacan Pefanis discusses discourse on postmodernism and its relation to Freud s concept of the death drive This intellectual history makes valuable contributions to the debates over what the postmodern may mean for intellectual and political activity

Standpoints and Differences Karen Henwood, Christine Griffin, Ann Phoenix, 1998-09-14 This volume investigates a key area of theoretical interest within contemporary feminist and poststructuralist theory paying particular attention to feminist psychology Recognizing that feminist researchers have a long standing commitment to conducting research from feminist standpoints the contributors consider the tensions between this and the poststructuralist argument that research and emancipatory politics can flow from personal and political differences The volume considers questions and developments on giving voice and explores arguments and theoretical positions concerning power and subjectivity paying attention to how these inform research practice

Curriculum in the Postmodern Condition Alicia de Alba, 2000 Annotation This book examines the ways that postmodernism has impacted curriculum formulation changing the ways that people think about knowledge how they participate in work and civic life and how humans interact with technology It approaches topics such as cultural contact postmodern science critical literacy and new technologies and the professionalization of environmental educators The authors have all taught in departments of education and are currently working in Mexico and New Zealand Annotation c Book News Inc Portland OR booknews com

Lyotard and the End of Grand Narratives Gary K. Browning, 2000 Lyotard s work challenges the presumption and orientation of modern political philosophy In particular he repudiates attempts to justify knowledge and society in terms of grand narratives of for example the liberation of mankind or the immanence of science He argues that the totalising perspective of these meta narratives is superseded by a post modern acceptance of difference and variety and a scepticism towards unifying meta theories

Discourse, Resistance and Identity Formation Jerome Satterthwaite, Wendy Martin, Lorna Roberts, 2006 This fifth volume in the Discourse Power Resistance series considers how teachers and learners are under relentless pressure to conform their professional identity to a model imposed by policymakers The book deals with the fundamental question facing teachers and learners worldwide who are we what are we supposed to be doing why Policymakers offer stultifying answers to these questions based on a narrow instrumental view of education that is viewed by teachers and learners with growing anger and dismay What is to be done The official view and the discourse through which that view is articulated is shown in this book to be weighty and vacuous at the same time a massively ponderous discursive absurdity Consequently this book goes on to offer wide ranging and serious strategies of resistance The book encourages faculty and students in universities and partner institutions involved in teaching training and or carrying out research in all areas of education It will appeal to staff and students involved in training for compulsory and post compulsory vocational education and lifelong learning and to lecturers in all areas of Higher Education with an interest in issues of policy and identity formation The contributors are David Selby Cheryl Hunt Christina Schwabenland Eileen Honan Mhairi Mackie James Avis Anne Marie Bathmaker Yota Dimitriadi and Michael Watts Communication Research ,1993 The Political Ethics of Jean-François Lyotard and Jacques Derrida Georges de Schrijver,2010 A genuine political ethics seems to require a universal perspective and yet we are told that the postmodern age eschews universal perspectives In this book Georges De Schrijver argues that the leading proponents of postmodernity have not as is commonly assumed abandoned the search for universals Rather they have sought to reshape the concept in ways that account for postmodernity s critique Examining the thought of both Jean Francois Lyotard who prophesies the end of the grand stories and Jacques Derrida the leading proponent of deconstruction De Schrijver comes to the conclusion that each in his turn is still in search of the universal Taking his lead from Kant s unrepresentable Idea Lyotard holds out hope for a universal expressed through respect for heterogeneity whereas Derrida arrives at this impossible dream through a critical study of Husserl s phenomenology The common bond for Lyotard and Derrida is their quest of the unrepresentable For Lyotard this comes through a sublime sadness urging him to side with the silenced party in legal disputes For Derrida the same quest is expressed through a yearning for the impossible things to come a justice that goes beyond legality a reshaping of the international juridical order and a hospitality that is truly unconditional in its reach Underlying the thought of both men is a profound appreciation for their Jewish ethical inheritance an appreciation they learn from Emmanuel Levinas In passing judgment on the new world order both authors go decidedly beyond Kant and thus beyond modernity in reaching for a truly transcultural perspective in this era of globalization Art & Text ,1993
