School As Community:

Community Schools JoAnne Ferrara, Reuben Jacobson, 2019-05-24 Ferrara and Jacobson go inside community schools across the country to explore the different roles that make this collaborative education reform work This book provides practitioners policymakers family members youth and local leaders a greater understanding of the different roles that make up a community school and tools for action Built on years of practice research and continuous improvement community schools are an innovative effective and grassroots strategy for bringing schools and communities together in order to improve outcomes for students families and communities This education reform is growing as school site local and state leaders seek collaborative solutions to our schools most persistent challenges The contributors experts in the field represent a diverse group of people with longstanding commitments to the community school strategy From principals to family members from community partners to teachers this book illustrates how together we all have a part to play in the development of successful community schools

Building Community in Schools Thomas J. Sergiovanni, 1994 Sergiovanni documents cases of schools that have successfully reinvented themselves in order to establish a sense of community as the foundation for all curriculum and instruction decisions Teachers administrators teacher educators and communities seeking advice and motivation for restructuring schools for the 21st century would be well advised to consult this work Choice Provides the practitioner with both a theoretical blueprint with which to build learning communities and a rich supply of benchmark illustrations to use as prototypes thought provoking and challenging NASSP Bulletin Both in and out of schools people are experiencing a loss of community In this book Thomas J Sergiovanni explains why a sense of community is so vital to the success of any school and shows teachers parents and administrators what they can do to rebuild it Filled with case studies and other school examples Building Community in Schools provides the necessary intellectual framework for understanding the need to create communities that are inclusive meaningful and democratic

School-Community Relations Douglas J. Fiore, 2021-07-29 Accessible and practical the fifth edition of School Community Relations provides aspiring educational leaders with the skills to establish strong systems for communicating with their various school constituencies and to improve public relations at all levels This textbook uses real life examples to illustrate the ways in which administrators and school leaders can effectively engage and enlist partnerships with teachers staff students parents and community members Chapters introduce communication and relationship concepts and provide specific examples of how great educational leaders have put the concepts into practice Case studies at the end of each chapter apply the strategies to realistic scenarios and Questions for Analysis help readers engage critically with the material New in this edition New strategies for utilizing social media and instructional technology to improve school community relations and foster a positive school image Increased focus on the necessary considerations for communicating with diverse audiences in a manner that reinforces inclusion in all forms Updated references and literature throughout to reflect the current educational contexts This book discusses the essential elements of successful school community relations and centers the importance of keeping the public connected to the schools they share School as Community Gail Furman,2012-02-01 An increasingly important and appealing concept for school renewal is that of school as community While community holds multiple promises for schools little is known about the practice of community in schools This collection furthers our understanding about the nature of school community its practice in public schools and the role of leadership in this practice Of particular importance is the question of how community can be created and sustained in K 12 public schools with highly diverse populations The Community School National Society for the Study of Education. Warren,Karen L. Mapp,2011-09-29 The persistent failure of public schooling in low income communities constitutes one of our nation s most pressing civil rights and social justice issues Many school reformers recognize that poverty racism and a lack of power held by these communities undermine children s education and development but few know what to do about it A Match on Dry Grass argues that community organizing represents a fresh and promising approach to school reform as part of a broader agenda to build power for low income communities and address the profound social inequalities that affect the education of children Based on a comprehensive national study the book presents rich and compelling case studies of prominent organizing efforts in Chicago New York City Los Angeles Denver San Jose and the Mississippi Delta The authors show how organizing groups build the participation and leadership of parents and students so they can become powerful actors in school improvement efforts They also identify promising ways to overcome divisions and create the collaborations between educators and community residents required for deep and sustainable school reform Identifying the key processes that create strong connections between schools and communities Warren Mapp and their collaborators show how community organizing builds powerful relationships that lead to the transformational change necessary to advance educational equity and a robust democracy
