Race Or Nation:

Race, Nation, Class Etienne Balibar, Immanuel Wallerstein, 2011-01-10 Forty years after the defeat of Nazism and twenty years after the great wave of decolonization how is it that racism remains a growing phenomenon What are the special characteristics of contemporary racism How can it be related to class divisions and to the contradictions of the nation state And how far in turn does racism today compel us to rethink the relationship between class struggles and nationalism This book attempts to answer these fundamental questions through a remarkable dialogue between the French philosopher Etienne Balibar and the American historian and sociologist Immanuel Wallerstein Each brings to the debate the fruits of over two decades of analytical work greatly inspired respectively by Louis Althusser and Fernand Braudel Both authors challenge the commonly held notion of racism as a continuation of or throwback to the xenophobias of past societies and communities They analyze it instead as a social relation indissolubly tied to present social structures the nation state the division of labor and the division between core and periphery which are themselves constantly being reconstructed Despite their productive disagreements Balibar and Wallerstein both emphasize the modernity of racism and the need to understand its relation to contemporary capitalism and class struggle Above all their dialogue reveals the forms of present and future social conflict in a world where the crisis of the nation state is accompanied by an alarming rise of nationalism and chauvinism Who Do We Think We Are? Philip Yale Nicholson, 1999-10-12 This text offers a provocative explanation of the force and place of race in modern history showing that race and nation have a linked history The author seeks to show the close historical connection of race and nation as each interrelates with the other in shaping and carrying social and institutional practices over many centuries Women Writing Race, Nation, and History Sonita Sarker, 2022 Addresses questions of belonging nativism and nationalism in the writings of six early twentieth century women writers across Argentina England India Italy and the United States and explores themes of political and cultural citizenship in their work The Maccabæan, 1916 Herald of Gospel Liberty Elias Smith, 1918 American Crucible Gary Gerstle, 2001 This sweeping history of 20th century America follows the changing and often conflicting ideas about the fundamental nature of American society Gary Gerstle traces the forces of civic and racial nationalism arguing that both profoundly shaped America Political Worlds of Women, Student Economy Edition Mary Hawkesworth, 2018-04-19 This book examines female engagement in both traditional and unconventional political arenas including female sociability salons child rearing and education health consumption religious reform and nationalism Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature, 1910 Reading 1 Peter After Supersessionism Kelly D. Liebengood, 2025-03-18 The central argument of this work is that 1 Peter does not promote a supersessionist view in which the church has replaced Israel as the new and true people of God Rather Liebengood contends that 1 Peter as an authoritative Jewish apostolic text extends to gentile followers of Jesus the privileges and promises originally given to Israel affirming their full inclusion and belonging within the people of God as gentiles By closely attending to the letter's use of Jewish restoration imagery and eschatology as well as its christological and pneumatological grounding Liebengood demonstrates that 1 Peter constructs the identity of its gentile addressees in continuity with rather than discontinuity from God's covenant with Israel The apostolic correspondence serves to welcome these gentiles into a form of Jewish identity or Israelhood centered on following the pattern of the Davidic Messiah Jesus without requiring them to become Torah observant proselytes Races, Nations and Classes Herbert Adolphus Miller, 1924 The Star, 1929

The South African Short Story in English, 1920-2010 Marta Fossati, 2024-09-05 Through detailed close readings alongside investigations into the history of print culture Marta Fossati traces the development of the South African short story in English from the late 1920s to the first decade of the twenty-first century She examines a selection of short stories by important Black South African writers Rolfes and Herbert Dhlomo Peter Abrahams Can Themba Alex La Guma Mtutuzeli Matshoba Ahmed Essop and Zo Wicomb with an alertness to the dialogue between ethics and aesthetics performed by these texts This new history of Black short fiction problematises and interrogates the often polarised readings of Black literature in South Africa that can be torn between notions of literariness protest and journalism Due to material constraints short fiction in South Africa circulated first and foremost through local print media which Fossati analyses in detail to show the cross-fertilisation between journalism and the short story While rooted in the South African context the short stories considered also hold a translocal dimension allowing us to explore the ethical and aesthetic practice of intertextuality These are writings that complicate the aesthetics ethics binary generic classifications and the categories of the literary and the political Theoretically eclectic in its approach although largely underpinned by a narratological analysis The South African Short Story in English 1920-2010 When Aesthetics Meets Ethics offers a fresh perspective on the South African short story in English spotlighting several hitherto marginalised figures in South African literary studies Disability and Colonialism Karen Soldatic, Shaun Grech, 2017-10-02 The mapping control and subjugation of the human body and mind were core features of the colonial conquest This book draws together a rich collection of diverse yet rigorous papers that aim to expose the presence and significance of disability within colonialism and how disability remains present in the establishment maintenance and continuation of colonial structures of power Disability as a site of historical analysis has become critically important to understanding colonial relations of power and the ways in which gender and identity are defined through colonial categorisations of the body Thus there is a growing prominence of disability within the historical literature Yet there are few international anthologies that traverse a critical level of depth on the subject domain This book fills a critical gap in the historical literature and is likely to become a core reader for postgraduate studies within disability studies postcolonial studies and more broadly across the humanities The chapters in this book were originally published as articles in Social Identities Journal for the Study of Race Nation and Culture Race, Nation, Class Étienne Balibar, 1991 Morality Matters Jeffrey R. Di Leo, 2002 How do race class and gender issues affect moral philosophy This question is the focus of this ambitious new applied ethics anthology Author Jeffrey R Di Leo complements classical and contemporary readings with materials drawn from film fiction court cases and current events to create this highly flexible and versatile volume Race and Nation Paul Spickard,2005-07-08 Race and Nation is the first book to compare the racial and ethnic systems that have developed around the world It is the creation of nineteen scholars who are experts on locations as far flung as China Jamaica Eritrea Brazil Germany Punjab and South Africa The contributing historians sociologists anthropologists political scientists and scholars of literary and cultural studies have engaged in an ongoing conversation honing a common set of questions that dig to the heart of racial and ethnic groups and systems Guided by those questions they have created the first book that explores the similarities differences and the relationships among the ways that race and ethnicity have worked in the modern world In so doing they have created a model for how to write world history that is detailed in its expertise yet also manages broad comparisons A Reference Handbook of the Medical Sciences Embracing the Entire Range of Scientific and Allied Sciences Albert Henry Buck,1894 The Islamic Review ,1919 The Catholic Periodical Index ,1943-07 A Concordance of the Proper Names in the Holy Scriptures Thomas David Williams,1923
