Quranic Ethics:

Qu'ranic Ethics Bashir Ahmad Dar,1969 The Moral World of the Qur'an Muhammad 'Abd Allāh Darāz,2008 This book analyzes for the first time in English the ethical theory that underpins Quranic legislation by providing a classification of specific verses in which Islam's holy book discusses moral issues. It demonstrates the ways in which the Quran theoretically and practically provides the moral code to which Muslims around the world adhere. The author divides his analysis into a survey of Quranic attitudes towards the basic ethical issues of obligation and responsibility, issues of moral psychology such as motivation and intention as well as matters of social ethics such as the function of law in society. He then explores the meanings of individual morality, morality within the family and civil society and the relationship of morality to the idea of the state.

Islamic Ethics of Life Jonathan E. Brockopp,2003 The contributors analyse classical sources and survey the modern ethical landscape to identify guiding principles within Islamic ethical thought. Clarifying the importance of pragmatism in Islamic decision making the authors also offer case studies related to specialized topics including wrongful birth claims, terrorist attacks and brain death. The case studies elicit possible variations on common Muslim perspectives. The contributors situate Muslim ethics relative to Christian and secular accounts of the value of human life, exposing similarities and differences.

Morality in the Quran: The Greater Good of Humanity Muhammad Abdullah Draz, Muhammad Abdullah Draz 1894-1958 is often referred to as the teacher of the teachers and in a league of his own. He is one of the most important Islamic and Azhari scholars of the past century and has made significant contributions to contemporary Islamic thought, especially in the fields of Quranic and Maqasid objectives studies. The original version of this book formed the doctoral dissertation La Morale du Coran which earned Muhammad Abdullah Draz a doctorate degree with the highest level of distinction at the Sorbonne Paris in 1947. The author's theory of morality presented in this book has not been matched in its originality, integrity and depth either past or present. Through a thematic interpretation of the Quran, the author proposes the following five critical elements to morality: obligation, responsibility, sanction, intent and effort. Each element plays an indispensable role in the conscience of a believer. The author postulates that every human possesses a light that enables them to determine good and evil on a fundamental level, propelling them towards duty, kindness and charity. It is then asserted that the believer possesses a double light, a deep knowledge that incorporates divine law into our very essence.
