Jewish Ways of Following Jesus Edwin Keith Broadhead,2010 In this study Edwin K Broadhead s purpose is to gather the ancient evidence of Jewish Christianity and to reconsider its impact He begins his investigation with the hypothesis that groups in antiquity who were characterized by Jewish ways of following Jesus may be vastly underrepresented misrepresented and undervalued in the ancient sources and in modern scholarship Giving a critical analysis of the evidence the author suggests that Jewish Christianity endured as a historical entity in a variety of places in different times and in diverse modes If this is true a new religious map of antiquity is required Moreover the author offers a revised context for the history of development of both Judaism and Christianity and for their relationship

Christ, Science, and Reason Robert Spitzer,2024-09-25 This is currently the only volume that comprehensively presents the scientific evidence in support of Jesus the Eucharist and Mary Father Robert Spitzer S J closely examines the scientific evidence for The Passion and Resurrection of Jesus from the Shroud of Turin The Real Presence of Jesus in the Holy Eucharist from three recent scientifically investigated Eucharistic miracles The supernatural dimensions of the apparitions of Mary manifest in the Tilma of Guadalupe the Miracle of the Sun at Fatima and many healing miracles connected with the Grotto of Lourdes This work also presents a summary of contemporary historical and exegetical evidence for the historicity Passion and Resurrection of Jesus and concludes with a consideration of the Catholic Church and science particularly the Church s contributions to science the complementarity of science and the Bible and the complementarity of physical evolution and the creation of a soul The book makes clear that the Catholic Church is not anti science but quite the opposite it is one of the most scientifically aware religious denominations in the world It will also be clear that science is not anti God anti Christ or anti religious On the contrary its tools and methods give considerable

God So Loved the World Fr. Robert Spitzer, SJ, 2016 In this volume the brilliant Fr Spitzer probes in detail the major question that if an intelligent Creator God manifest in logical proofs scientific evidence and near death experiences who is the source of our desire for the sacred and the transcendental desires for truth love goodness and beauty would want to reveal himself to us personally and ultimately He then shows this is reasonable not only in light of our interior experience of a transcendent Reality but also that a completely intelligent Reality is completely positive implying its possession of a completely positive virtue namely love defined as agape This leads to the question whether God might be unconditionally loving and if he is whether he would want to make a personal appearance to us in a perfect act of empathy face to face After examining the rational evidence for this he reviews all world religions to see if there is one that reveals such a God an unconditionally loving God who would want to be with us in perfect empathy This leads us to the extraordinary claim of Jesus Christ who taught that God is Abba the unconditionally loving Father Jesus claims go further saying that He is also unconditional love and that his mission is to give us that love through an act of complete self sacrifice He also claims to be the exclusive Son of the Father sent by God to save the world and the one who possesses divine power and authority The rest of the book does an in depth examination of the evidence for Jesus unconditional love of sinners his teachings his miracles and his rising from the dead As well as the evidence for Jesus gift of the Holy Spirit that enabled his disciples to perform miracles in his name and evidence for the presence of the Holy Spirit today If this strong evidence convinces us to believe that Jesus is our ultimate meaning and destiny and desire His saving presence in our lives that evidence should galvanize the Holy Spirit within us to show that Jesus is Lord and Savior the way the truth and the life And our faith in him will transform everything we think about our nature dignity and destiny and how we live endure suffering contend with evil and treat our neighbor The Return of Jesus in Early Christianity John T. Jesus the Warrior? William Michael Slattery, 2007 The early followers of Christ desisted from carrying and using weapons that threaten and cause physical violence None of the Church leaders and patristic writers was in favor of participating in armies and militias But by the fourth century CE with Christianity becoming the dominant religion in Eurasia the Christian stance towards war and violence changed from non-acceptance to approval Was this a result of a rectification of the misinterpretation of Christ's teachings by his early followers or by the later theologians If that is the case did the early Christians deliberately misinterpret Christ's teachings because of the precarious political position they found themselves in or did they actually see in Christ's teachings an exhortation towards non-violence What are the arguments given by the later Christian thinkers in favour of just war These are some of the questions tackled by W. Michael Slattery in his book Jesus the Warrior

Postmodernism and a Sociology of the Absurd and Other Essays on the "nouvelle Vague" in American Social Science Stanford M. Lyman, 1997 In the fifth volume in the Studies in American Sociology Series Stanford M. Lyman offers commentaries on and critiques of postmodernism poststructuralism and deconstruction posing questions concerning theoretical and epistemological problems arising from what appears to be a nouvelle vague Postmodernism poststructuralism and deconstructionism are interrelated aspects of the newest theoretical development in sociology and the social sciences This new wave of thought challenges virtually all paradigms currently in use In this his fifth volume in the Studies in American Sociology Series Stanford M. Lyman offers commentaries on and critiques of this new perspective posing questions concerning theoretical and epistemological problems arising from what appears to be a nouvelle vague Among the basic themes and issues explored are the allegation that modernity has defaulted on the promise of the Enlightenment the question of whether the rational basis for knowledge and action is still valid the controversy over the place of metanarratives and macrosociological outlooks and newer concerns over race gender sexual preferences the self and the Other Professor Lyman provides empirically based and historically specific analyses of the relation of the race question to the problem of otherness and to the legal construction of racial identity in American court proceedings Focusing on the issues of citizenship affecting European Middle Eastern and Asian immigrants African Americans and the special cases of the Chinese and Native Americans he relates major public problems to the modern as well as the postmodern perspectives on justice The debate over assimilation and multiculturalism the dynamics of gender specific emotions as expressed in six decades of Hollywood films and the postmodern approach to deviance are each examined He also offers proposals for a social science attuned to but critical of postmodernism and poststructuralism Such a sociology might offer a perspective that treats the drama of social relations in the routine as well as the remarkable aspects of everyday life Professor Lyman provides not only a new understanding of postmodernism but also a program of how to proceed with respect to its challenges Children's Voices

Annemie Dillen, Didier Pollefeyt, 2010 This book deals with themes concerning religious education and the spirituality of children Throughout the seventeen chapters the book stimulates a scholarly discussion about children and theology The book makes clear that classical Christian theology can benefit from taking seriously children's voices and reflections about children The volume demonstrates how nuanced and interdisciplinary reflections can be relevant for Christian and social practices of adults with children and how these practices can influence theology This volume asks the following questions Why is it important that we hear the voices of children and what does this mean for how we treat children and relate to them What do the voices of children express How do children experience society and in particular religion and what do they have to say about it What do the voices of children mean for theology ethics and religious education In what way can our theology change when we see reality from the perspective of children This book consists of five parts In the first part the reader receives an overview of the current challenges concerning children and spirituality The two chapters of this part offer an introduction to contemporary thinking about children theology and spirituality and the place of children's voices within this scope The second part refers to biblical sources for contemporary theological reflection on children The third part contains pedagogical and ethical reflections on children as well as a view from practical theology about children in the world and the responsibility of churches This third part looks mainly at children in relation to society both in the past and in the present The fourth part focuses on children living in the family which is seen as a domestic church The fifth part takes up the theme of children's spirituality again showing children's own spiritual reflection and ways of theologizing with children in church and family contexts by communication literature and all forms of religious education and or catechesis Ecological

Hermeneutics David G. Horrell, 2010-08 This is an excellent book and one that is much needed There is no issue more urgent for contemporary theology as it comes to terms with the demands of the ecological crisis than carefully thinking through its approach to the interpretation of biblical texts This book makes an indispensable contribution The contributors display a great deal of learning and communicate a strong sense of commitment to both the good of the Earth community and the integrity of biblical faith Denis Edwards Catholic Theological College Australia The Catholic Biblical Quarterly

Theology and Modern Science James

Wiseman, 2002-04-18 Among the multitude of issues addressed by authors in the burgeoning field of science and theology the most fundamental is that of divine action in the world How might believers best understand God as truly acting in the realms studied by the natural sciences Several specific questions arise in this context What implications do contemporary theories about the origins of the universe have for the doctrine of God as Creator of heaven and earth When cosmologists and biologists talk about the evolution not only of galaxies and solar systems but also of various forms of life on earth what does this say about the doctrine of divine providence If human beings evolved from earlier organisms as the vast majority of scientists believe what changes might this portend for the way we talk about the human soul and the way we either affirm or deny a spiritual element in other living beings If scientists are correct in predicting the eventual demise of the solar system how might these predictions affect the way we understand the traditional Judeo Christian hope for a new heaven and a new earth These are some of the questions that this book sets out to answer Though many of the issues are rooted in Christian theology the book addresses them in a broadly ecumenical way that will be both informative and thought provoking for anyone interested in the lively contemporary debate between theology and the natural sciences
