A Psychological Approach to Fiction Bernard Jay Paris, 1974

Character and Conflict in Jane Austen's Novels Bernard J. Paris, 2013-02-01 Originally published Detroit Wayne State University Press 1978

Imagined Human Beings Bernard J. Paris, 1997-10 One of literature's greatest gifts is its portrayal of realistically drawn characters human beings in whom we can recognize motivations and emotions In Imagined Human Beings Bernard J Paris explores the inner conflicts of some of literature's most famous characters using Karen Horney's psychoanalytic theories to understand the behavior of these characters as we would the behavior of real people When realistically drawn characters are understood in psychological terms they tend to escape their roles in the plot and thus subvert the view of them advanced by the author A Horneyan approach both alerts us to conflicts between plot and characterization rhetoric and mimesis and helps us understand the forces in the author's personality that generate them The Horneyan model can make sense of thematic inconsistencies by seeing them as the product of the author's inner divisions Paris uses this approach to explore a wide range of texts including Antigone The Clerk's Tale The Merchant of Venice A Doll's House Hedda Gabler Great Expectations Jane Eyre The Mayor of Casterbridge Wuthering Heights Madame Bovary The Awakening and The End of the Road Do You Feel it Too? Nicoline Timmer, 2010 Do You Feel It Too explores a new sense of self that is becoming manifest in experimental fiction written by a generation of authors who can be considered the heirs of the postmodern tradition It offers a precise in depth analysis of a new post postmodern direction in fiction writing and highlights which aspects are most acute in the post postmodern novel Most notable is the emphatic expression of feelings and sentiments and a drive toward inter subjective connection and communication The self that is presented in these post postmodern works of fiction can best be characterized as relational To analyze this new sense of self a new interpretational method is introduced that offers a sophisticated approach to fictional selves combining the insights of post classical narratology and what is called narrative psychology Close analyses of three contemporary experimental texts Infinite Jest 1996 by David Foster Wallace A Heartbreaking Work of Staggering Genius 2000 by Dave Eggers and House of Leaves 2000 by Mark Danielewski provide insight into the typical problems that the self experiences in postmodern cultural contexts Three such problems or symptoms are singled out and analyzed in depth an inability to choose because of a lack of decision making tools a difficulty to situate or appropriate feelings and a structural need for a we a desire for connectivity and sociality The critique that can be distilled from these texts especially on the perceived solipsistic quality of postmodern experience worlds runs parallel to developments in recent critical theory These developments in fiction and theory both signal in the wake of poststructural conceptions of subjectivity a perhaps much awaited turn to the human in our culture at large today Combining Aesthetic and Psychological Approaches to TV Series Addiction Sébastien Lefait, Anne-Marie Paquet-Deyris, 2018-07-26 This book establishes and then analyses the interrelation between series and dependence by focusing on two aspects of their connection the overconsumption of TV series and the production devices that lead to it Due to its two sided nature the volume brings together specialists from different backgrounds On the one hand it involves people working with addiction such as psychiatrists psychologists and social workers whose analytical tools and statistics are extremely useful in assessing the prevalence of TV series addiction as well as its consequences in order to make sense of its mechanics For similar reasons the authors also include professionals working with children and teenagers since youths under 18 are largely affected by addictive tendencies On the other hand other contributions here are authored by TV series specialists producers and scriptwriters as well as academics in the fields of film and TV series studies cultural studies and narratology Their specific perspectives on the topic help better understand what it is about the construction or reception of TV series that aims to create maintain amplify or on the contrary curb their ingrained addictive effects Stuckness in the Fiction of Mervyn Peake Alice Mills, 2005-01-01 Mervyn Peake has been
