Sea Change

Mary Isabella I. Brotherton

Sea Change:

Sea Change I. H. Burnley, Peter Murphy, 2004 Sea Change is about population turnaround. It describes the very significant migration of nearly 1 million people from metropolitan to non-metropolitan Australia over the last 30 years. These movements have occurred in all states and most have been to coastal locations hence the title. Demographic Change in Australia's Rural Landscapes Gary W. Luck, Digby Race, Rosemary Black, 2010-11-30 The distribution and re-distribution of people across the landscape has significant implications for ecological, economic and social dynamics. Movement of people to urban centres, mostly from rural landscapes especially in the developing world, is a major global phenomenon. This can result in the depopulation of rural landscapes. Conversely, population growth and a changing demographic profile have been identified for particular rural landscapes with notable examples from North America, Europe and Australia. Yet we know little of the factors that drive demographic changes in rural landscapes and even less about the implications of these changes. This book examines broad and local scale patterns of demographic change in rural landscapes, identifies some of the drivers of these changes using Australian case studies or comparisons between Australian and international contexts and outlines the implications of changes for society and the environment. This book makes a valuable contribution to the literature because it adopts an integrated and interdisciplinary approach by explicitly linking demographic change with environmental, land use, social and economic factors. This integrated approach was achieved by encouraging interaction among authors writing on similar topics to ensure coherency and complementarity among chapters and cross-pollination of ideas and perspectives. Chapters are presented as interactive and reflective discussions that address the findings of other contributors yet each chapter contains enough background to stand alone as a unique contribution. Film-Induced Tourism Sue Beeton, 2016-09-15 This research-based monograph presents an introduction to the concept of film-induced tourism building on the work of the seminal first edition. Many new case studies exploring the relationship between film and TV and tourism have been added and existing cases have been updated. The book incorporates studies on film studio theme parks, the impact of film-induced tourism on communities and the effect of film on tourists' behaviour. It introduces new content including film-induced tourism in non-Western cultures, movie tours and content tourism. The book is an essential resource for postgraduate students and researchers in the fields of tourism, film and media studies. Sea Change Sylvia A. Earle, 1996 Internationally renowned as the ambassador at large to the world's oceans, Sylvia Earle is an extraordinary woman: the former chief scientist of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, a distinguished marine biologist, a veteran of more than 6,000 hours underwater, the founder of an ocean engineering firm and an eloquent advocate for marine conservation. Sea Change is at once the gripping adventure story of Earle's three decades of undersea exploration, an insider's introduction to the dynamic field of marine biology and an urgent plea for the preservation of the world's fragile and rapidly deteriorating ocean ecosystems. Earle takes us along on journeys to places of unimaginable beauty and unutterable destruction. She conjures up the exhilaration of swimming with humpback whales off the coast of Maui she makes us comprehend the true environmental tragedy of the massive oil spills in Prince William Sound and the Persian Gulf and she leads us out into Australia's Great Barrier Reef the epitome of ocean wilderness but also the final resting place for tons of waste that drift in from thousands of miles away This brilliant thought provoking superbly readable book will inspire a new reverence for the majesty of the world's oceans even as it opens our eyes to the intricate interdependence of all life forms Sea Change Richard

Girling,2011-05-31 We have a special relationship with the sea It is the single most powerful driver of our economy our lifestyle and our politics It affects what we eat how we use the land how we relate to our neighbours how we travel even the thickness of our coats Yet we go on treating it with childlike faith and unreason as if we imagine it to be infinitely resourceful and endlessly forgiving Sea Change addresses such issues as pollution by sewage nuclear waste and dumping at sea extinction of fish stocks destruction of marine environment impacts of climate change coastal erosion and rising sea levels decline of our seaside resorts the failure of the integrated transport policy and smuggling In each case Girling questions how did the situation arise What are the consequences What should be done And what will happen when we fail His unique voice blends horror humour and just fancy that sifting for solutions in the sands he is utterly compelling entertaining and inspirational
