Sound & Vision, 2008 Radio Rides the Range Jack French, David S. Siegel, 2013-11-05 This is a comprehensive encyclopedia to the more than 100 radio programs portraying the American West in fact and fiction heard by generations of listeners from the Great Depression through the Cold War era The book includes both the popular and lesser known series as well as would be offerings that never made it past the audition stage Each entry describes the series the extent to which it was based on actual facts the audience it was written for and its broadcast history The descriptions also examine how the programs reflected society's changing social and cultural attitudes towards racial and ethnic minorities and the role of women The availability of surviving audio copies and original scripts is noted An extensive bibliography and several appendices provide additional sources of information about Western programming during the Golden Age of Radio

Acoustic Properties Tom McEnaney, 2017-06-15 Acoustic Properties Radio Narrative and the New Neighborhood of the Americas discovers the prehistory of wireless culture It examines both the coevolution of radio and the novel in Argentina Cuba and the United States from the early 1930s to the late 1960s and the various populist political climates in which the emerging medium of radio became the chosen means to produce the voice of the people Based on original archival research in Buenos Aires Havana Paris and the United States the book develops a literary media theory that understands sound as a transmedial phenomenon and radio as a transnational medium Analyzing the construction of new social and political relations in the wake of the United States 1930s Good Neighbor Policy Acoustic Properties challenges standard narratives of hemispheric influence through new readings of Richard Wright's cinematic work in Argentina Severo Sarduy's radio plays in France and novels by John Dos Passos Manuel Puig Raymond Chandler and Carson McCullers Alongside these writers the book also explores Che Guevara and Fidel Castro's Radio Rebelde FDR's fireside chats Felix Caignet's invention of the radionovela in Cuba Evita Peron's populist melodramas in Argentina Orson Welles's experimental New Deal radio Cuban and U S radio wars and the 1960s African American activist Robert F Williams's proto black power Radio Free Dixie From the doldrums of the Great Depression to the tumult of the Cuban Revolution Acoustic Properties illuminates how novelists in the radio age converted writing into a practice of listening transforming realism as they struggled to channel and shape popular power Billboard, 1999-03-06 In its 114th year Billboard remains the world's premier weekly music publication and a diverse digital events brand content and data licensing platform Billboard publishes the most trusted charts and offers unrivaled reporting about the latest music video gaming media digital and mobile entertainment issues and trends

Richard Wright Kenneth Kinnamon, 2014-11-04 African American writer Richard Wright 1908-1960 was celebrated during the early 1940s for his searing autobiography Black Boy and fiction Native Son By 1947 he felt so unwelcome in his homeland that he exiled himself and his family in Paris But his writings changed American culture forever and today they are mainstays of literature and composition classes He and his works are also the subjects of numerous critical essays and commentaries by contemporary writers This volume presents a comprehensive annotated bibliography of those essays books and articles from 1983 through 2003 Arranged alphabetically by author within years are some 8 320 entries ranging from unpublished dissertations to book length studies of African American literature and literary criticism Also included as an appendix are addenda to the author s earlier bibliography covering the years from 1934 through 1982 This is the exhaustive reference for serious students of Richard Wright and his critics
