Being and Film Christine Reeh-Peters, 2021-03-16 This book develops the so called solaristic ontology of film by building a philosophical system based on an inquiry into the nature of film being and reality This solaristic system appropriates the aesthetic ideas and principles of thought present in the 1972 sci fi movie Solaris by Andrei Tarkovsky This movie is the main center of analysis here since it is highly symptomatic of the medium s philosophical self reflexivity and its intriguing correlation with reality and being The solaristic science is a fictional science introduced in the movie s diegesis and dedicated to the investigation of the planet Solaris an unattainable challenge In this sense the solaristic system closes the film s narrative by telling a philosophical story on the planet Solaris The book thus details a philosophical form of concept art and at the same time builds on previous results of film philosophy as well as the speculative turn in contemporary philosophy

Re-Forming the Body MR Philip A Mellor, Philip A. Mellor Chris Shilling, Professor Chris Shilling, 1997-02-14 Enriches the conceptual arsenal for interdisciplinary analysis of political social and cultural change stimulates more nuanced thinking about the cultural and political legacy of the Reformation era manages both to clarify tensions surrounding cultural and social integration in the late 20th century while underscoring the real historical complexity of modern bodies American Journal of Sociology Through an analysis of successive re formations of the body this innovative and penetrating book constructs a fascinating and wide ranging account of how the creation and evolution of different patterns of human community are intimately related to the somatic experience of the sacred The book places the relationship between the embodiment and the sacred at the crux of social theory and casts a fresh light on the emergence and transformation of modernity It critically examines the thesis that the rational projects of modern embodiment have died and gone to cyberspace and suggests that we are witnessing the rise of a virulent effervescent form of the sacred which is changing how people see and keep in touch with the world around them

Trinitarian Spirituality Brian K. Kay, 2008-02-01 This work examines the problem of how to connect the historic doctrine of the Trinity to Christian devotional practice Two criteria for a successful Trinitarian spirituality are proposed that of drawing significantly from nuances of the classic formulations of the doctrine and dealing with the mode of original Trinitarian self disclosure that is the unfolding biblical doctrine of the historia salutis Various historical attempts at articulating a method are examined with special emphasis given to the Puritan John Owen

God, Belief, and Perplexity William E. Mann, 2016-05-02 This volume presents fourteen of William E Mann s essays on Augustine Anselm and Peter Abelard The topics include Augustine on infant behavior juvenile wrongdoing the moral status of plays and dreams and the problem of evil Augustine and Abelard s intentionalism is examined along with Anselm s ontological argument and defense of the doctrine of the Trinity

Deleuze on Cinema Ronald Bogue, 2003-03-07 Gilles Deleuze has produced some of the most important and most formidable theory on cinema to appear in the last half century Deleuze on Cinema provides a thorough and reliable guide to Deleuze s thought on the art of film elucidating in clear language the shape and thrust of Deleuze's arguments found in his influential books on cinema The Mask John Cournos, 1919 Augustine's Confessions William E. Mann, 2014-07-03 Augustine's Confessions is a masterpiece of world literature. Written by Augustine in his forties at the height of his philosophical and rhetorical skills, the Confessions is at once autobiographical, philosophical, theological, and psychological. The aim of the eight essays commissioned for the present volume is to provide an examination and discussion of some of the philosophical issues raised by Augustine. What constitutes the happy or blessed life and what is required to achieve it? The essays question the role that philosophical perplexity plays in the search for truth and the mental discipline that is required for conducting the search, in addition to asking how Augustine depicts the acquisition of truth as a vision of God. Furthermore, they discuss the problems that arise in the attempt to understand minds, both our own and others, and ask about the interplay between what reason tells us is right and what we will do. What are the impediments to an individual's moral progress and how far are these impediments created by the temptations to indulge in such fictions as dramas and dreams? What is the nature of eternity and how does eternity differ from time? How should scripture be interpreted, especially the account of creation of the material world in Genesis? Readers with a basic knowledge of Augustine may perceive him to be simply a powerful definer and defender of religious orthodoxy, a figure who ranks behind only Jesus and Paul in the development of a distinctively Christian world view. For such readers, the intellectual honesty and psychological candour of the Confessions should come as a pleasant surprise. Memory in the Ontopoiesis of Life Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka, 2009-09-30 From Aristotle to the present, memory has been grasped as a trace or impression of lost reality, bridging physiological experience and consciousness. Philosophers have vainly sought the nature of this bridge. The present-day physiologizing, naturalizing of consciousness is not resolving their congenital continuity in which the very existence and practice of life is rooted. We have to change our approach. Erwin Straus: The Aristotelian congenital ties between memory and temporality acquire crucial significance in our primogenital ontopoiesis of life. Tymieniecka: It reveals memory to be the factor that carries this coalescence and the becoming of life itself. This can be the fruit only of the generative springs of life: first phenomenology, philosophy, the ontopoietic logos of life. In this collection, we explore memory in the constitution of reality: remembering and interpretation, consciousness, action, facts, imagination, history, myths, self-realization, metamorphosis. The Wonders of Life Ernst Haeckel, 1904 The publication of the present work on The Wonders of Life has been occasioned by the success of The Riddle of the Universe, which was written five years prior to this volume. Within a few months of the issue of this study of the monistic philosophy in the autumn of 1899, ten thousand copies were sold. The clear opposition of the author's monistic philosophy, based as it was on the most advanced and sound scientific knowledge to the conventional ideas and to an outworn revelation, led to the publication of a vast number of criticisms and attacks. The present work on the wonders of life is, as the title indicates, a supplementary volume to The Riddle of the Universe. While the latter undertook to make a comprehensive survey of the general questions of science as cosmological problems in the light of the monistic philosophy the present volume is confined to the realm of organic science or the science of life It seeks to deal connectedly with the general problems of biology in strict accord with the monistic and mechanical principles which had been laid down by the author in 1866 in his work titled General Morphology In the latter publication special stress was placed on the universality of the law of substance and the substantial unity of nature which had been further treated in the second and fourteenth chapters of The Riddle of the Universe The arrangement of the vast material for this study of the wonders of life was modeled on that of the Riddle Retained in the present volume is the division into larger and smaller sections and the synopses of the various chapters Thus the whole biological content falls into four sections and twenty chapters Preface PsycINFO Database Record c 2010 APA all rights reserved Prayers and meditations. Also some opinions on the Christian religion Samuel Johnson,1904 THE EDUCATION OF THE WILL JULES PAYOT, LITT. D., PH.D.,1909 The Education of the Will Jules Payott,1909 The Education of the Will Jules Payot,1909 Identifies who today s immigrants to the United States are describes their experiences contributions and impact on society and discusses how an immigrant becomes a citizen The Mantle of Caesar Friedrich Gundolf,1928

Images of Identity Benjamin C. Sax,1987 The word Bildung variously defined as education or self formation came into popular usage in western Europe through the terminological revolution of the late eighteenth century No single individual was more influential in giving his own definition to this key word than was Goethe Through an analysis of Goethe s use of the term in the Bildungsroman Wilhelm Meisters Lehrjahre Goethe s autobiography Dichtung und Wahrheit and the much neglected text Wilhelm Meisters Wanderjahre Sax shows how Bildung was more than a process of self formation for it included an understanding of the relation of the individual to society to history and through the interpretation of symbols to a transcendent level of meaning as well It is Sax s purpose to place Goethe s notion of Bildung within the context of the history of Western self conceptions since the Renaissance American Gynecology American gynecology,1902 American Gynecology ,1902 Littell's Living Age Eliakim Littell,Robert S.
