Memory And History In Christianity And Judaism:

Memory and History in Christianity and Judaism Michael Alan Signer, 2001 The essays in this volume reflect the effort to recognize the alteration in the intellectual and social contexts in which Jews and Christians gather for prayer and the undermining of the conjunction between memory and ritualization

The Christian Schism in Jewish History and Jewish Memory Joshua Ezra Burns, 2016-02-11 How did Jews perceive the first Christians By what means did they come to appreciate Christianity as a religion distinct from their own In The Christian Schism in Jewish History and Jewish Memory Professor Joshua Ezra Burns addresses those questions by describing the birth of Christianity as a function of the Jewish past Surveying a range of ancient evidences he examines how the authors of Judaism's earliest surviving memories of Christianity speak to the perspectives of rabbinic observers who were conditioned by the unique circumstances of their encounters with Christianity to recognize its adherents as fellow Jews Only upon the decline of the Church's Jewish demographic were their successors compelled to see Christianity as something other than a variation of Jewish cultural expression The evolution of thought in the classical Jewish literary record thus offers a dynamic account of Christianity's separation from Judaism counterbalancing the abrupt schism attested in contemporary Christian texts

Memory, Tradition, And Text Alan K. Kirk, Tom Thatcher, 2005 Social and cultural memory theory examines the ways communities and individuals reconstruct and commemorate their pasts in light of shared experiences and current social realities Drawing on the methods of this emerging field this volume both introduces memory theory to biblical scholars and restores the category memory to a preeminent position in research on Christian origins In the process the volume challenges current approaches to research problems in Christian origins such as the history of the Gospel traditions the birth of early Christian literature ritual and ethics and the historical Jesus The essays taken in aggregate outline a comprehensive research agenda for examining the beginnings of Christianity and its literature and also propose a fundamentally revised model for the phenomenology of early Christian oral tradition assess the impact of memory theory upon historical Jesus research establish connections between memory dynamics and the appearance of written Gospels and assess the relationship of early Christian commemorative activities with the cultural memory of ancient Judaism Contributors include April D DeConick Arthur J Dewey Philip F Esler Holly Hearon Richard Horsley Georgia Masters Keightley Werner Kelber Alan Kirk Barry Schwartz Tom Thatcher and Antoinette Clark Wire Paperback edition is available from the Society of Biblical Literature www.sbl-site.org History and Memory in Judaism and Christianity, 1998 Jewish Studies in Memory of Israel Abrahams Jewish Institute of Religion (New York, N.Y.), Alexander Kohut Memorial Foundation, 1927 When Judaism and Christianity Began (2 vols) Alan Avery-Peck, Daniel Harrington, Jacob Neusner, 2004-04-01 Top scholars celebrate the enduring heritage in learning bequeathed by Anthony J Saldarini 1941 2001 Twenty nine essays focus on the areas of Christianity and Judaism to which Dr Saldarini was devoted earliest Christianity Judaism in late antiquity and the interchange between Judaism and Christianity then and now Jewish History and Jewish Memory Yosef Hayim Yerushalmi, 1998 Publication of Yosef Yerushalmi's Zakhor in 1982 inspired a generation of scholarly inquiry into historical images and myths the construction of the Jewish past and the making and meaning of collective memory Here eminent scholars in their respective fields extend the lines of his seminal study into topics that range from medieval rabbinics homiletics kabbalah and Hasidism to antisemitism Zionism and the making of modern Jewish identity Essays are clustered around four central themes historical consciousness and the construction of memory the relationship between time and history in Jewish thought the demise of traditional forms of collective memory and the writing of Jewish history in modern times Memory in Jewish, Pagan and Christian Societies of the Graeco-Roman World Doron Mendels, 2004-07-29 The ten studies in this book explore the phenomenon of public memory in societies of the Graeco Roman period Mendels begins with a concise discussion of the historical canon that emerged in Late Antiquity and brought with it the distorted memory of ancient history in Western culture The following nine chapters each focus on a different source of collective memory in order to demonstrate the patchy and incomplete associations ancient societies had with their past including discussions of Plato's Politeia a site of memory of the early church and the dichotomy existing between the reality of the land of Israel in the Second Temple period and memories of it Throughout the book Mendels shows that since the societies of Antiquity had associations with only bits and pieces of their past these associations could be slippery and problematic constantly changing multiplying and submerging Memories true and false oral and inscribed provide good evidence for this fluidity When Judaism and Christianity Began: Judaism and Christianity in the beginning Anthony J. Saldarini, 2004 Annotation In these volumes top scholars in the study of religion celebrate the enduring heritage in learning bequeathed to coming generations by Anthony J Saldarini 1941 2001 Twenty nine commemorative essays focus on the topical areas of formative Christianity and Judaism to which Dr Saldarini devoted his efforts earliest Christianity with special attention to the Gospels Judaism in late antiquity and the interchange between Judaism and Christianity then and now So too the disciplines represented in these pages match his history including

Social Memory and Social Identity in the Study of Early Judaism and Early Christianity Samuel Byrskog, Raimo Hakola, Jutta Maria Jokiranta, 2016-09-12 The concepts of social memory and social identity have been increasingly used in the study of ancient Jewish and Christian sources In this collection of articles international specialists apply interdisciplinary methodology related to these concepts to early Jewish and Christian sources The volume offers an up to date presentation of how social memory studies and socio psychological identity approach have been used in the study of Biblical and related literature The articles examine how Jewish and Christian sources participate in the processes of collective recollection and in this way contribute to the construction of distinctive social identities The writers demonstrate the benefits of the use of interdisciplinary methodologies in the study of early Judaism and Christianity but also discuss potential problems that have emerged when modern theories have been applied to ancient material In the first part of the book scholars apply social collective and cultural memory approaches to early Christian sources The articles discuss philosophical aspects of memory the formation of gospel traditions in the light of memory studies the role of eyewitness testimony in canonical and non canonical Christian sources and the oral delivery of New Testament writings in relation to ancient delivery practices Part two applies the social identity approach to various Dead Sea Scrolls and New Testament writings The writers analyse the role marriage deviant behaviour and wisdom traditions in the construction of identity in the Dead Sea Scrolls Other topics include forgiveness in the Gospel of Matthew the imagined community in the Gospel of John the use of the past in Paul's Epistles and the relationship between the covenant and collective identity in the Epistle to the Hebrews and the First Epistle of Clement

Between Memory and History Orna Kenan, 2003 Critical study of the Holocaust began late in Israel emerging gradually in the latter part of the 1960s This book examines the link between history and memory in shaping Israel's historiography of the Holocaust period in the two decades immediately following the Holocaust 1945-1961 During that time three groups evolved in Israel as a result of the immediate catastrophic past the professional historians in Eretz Yisrael the Jewish ghetto fighters and partisans and the ordinary survivors These groups were shaped by different experiences and conceptions and although these groups differed radically their interaction within Israel helped shape and construct Israel's consciousness of the Holocaust
