3:16 Bible Texts Illuminated Donald E. Knuth,1991-01-01 What happens when a world renowned computer scientist applies scientific methodology to studying the Bible writes about his findings and has some of the world s best calligraphers illustrate the work The result is 3 16 Bible Texts Illuminated a treasure of profound biblical insight and enchanting calligraphy that will enlighten your mind your eyes and your spirit Donald E Knuth so loved the Bible that he dedicated five years of his life to creating this masterpiece With it you will learn about each 3 16 verse of the Bible how it came to be written and how it contributes to the wholeness of the Bible Publisher Anthology of Magazine Verse William Stanley Braithwaite,1915 Vol for 1958 includes Anthology of poems from the seventeen previously published Braithwaite anthologies

Prometheus Unbound, and Other Experiments in Verse Arthur Weightman Spencer,1924 Anthology of Magazine Verse for ... and Year Book of American Poetry ,1915 Anthology of Magazine Verse for ... and Year Book of American Poetry William Stanley Braithwaite,1915 Anthology of Magazine Verse for ... ,1915 Nine Ways God Always Speaks Mark Herringshaw,Jennifer Schuchmann,2009 Whether Christian or not many people have unusual experiences conditions or encounters that have left them wondering Is God trying to tell me something The truth is God does communicate with us all the time We just need to learn how to hear his voice Using stories and examples from people throughout history and today Herringshaw and Schuchmann show readers how they can better tune in to God s voice everywhere and every day Anthology of Magazine Verse for 1913-29 and Yearbook of American Poetry William Stanley Braithwaite,1915 Generating Creative Language - Theories, Practice and Evaluation Mika Hämmäläinen,2020-10-08 This thesis presents approaches to computationally creative natural language generation focusing on theoretical foundations practical solutions and evaluation I defend that a theoretical definition is crucial for computational creativity and that the practical solution must closely follow the theoretical definition Finally evaluation must be based on the underlying theory and what was actually modelled in the practical solution A theoretical void in the existing theoretical work on computational creativity is identified The existing theories do not explicitly take into account the communicative nature of natural language Therefore a new theoretical framework is elaborated that identifies how computational creativity can take place in a setting that has a clear communicative goal This introduces a communicative creative trade off that sets limits to creativity in such a communicative context My framework divides creativity in three categories message creativity contextual creativity and communicative creativity Any computationally creative NLG approach not taking communicativity into account is called mere surface generation I propose a novel master apprentice approach for creative language generation The approach consists of a genetic algorithm the fitness functions of which correspond to different parameters defined as important for the creative task in question from a theoretical perspective The output of the genetic algorithm together with possible human authored data are used to train the apprentice which is a sequence to sequence neural network model The role of the apprentice in the system is to approximate creative autonomy Evaluation is approached from three different perspectives in this work ad hoc and abstract theory based and abstract and theory based and concrete The first perspective is the most common one in the current literature and its shortcomings are demonstrated and discussed This starts a gradual shift towards more meaningful evaluation by first using proper theories to define the task being modelled and finally reducing the room for subjective interpretation by suggesting the use of concrete evaluation questions Style, Computers, and Early Modern Drama Hugh Craig, Brett Greatley-Hirsch, 2017-08-03 This book uses computational methods and statistical analysis to challenge traditional assumptions about the plays of Shakespeare and his contemporaries The Play of Allusion in the Historia Augusta David Rohrbacher, 2016 By turns outlandish humorous and scatological the Historia Augusta is an eccentric compilation of biographies of the Roman emperors and usurpers of the second and third centuries Historians of late antiquity have struggled to explain the fictional date and authorship of the work and its bizarre content did the Emperor Carinus really swim in pools of floating apples and melons did the usurper Proculus really deflower a hundred virgins in fifteen days David Rohrbacher offers instead a literary analysis of the work focusing on its many playful allusions Marshaling an array of interdisciplinary research and original analysis he contends that the Historia Augusta originated in a circle of scholarly readers with an interest in biography and that its allusions and parodies were meant as puzzles and jokes for a knowing and appreciative audience Poetry, 1917 The Bookman, 1917 The Publishers Weekly, 1903 The Cavalry Journal, 1928 Poet Lore, 1916 The United States Catalog, 1906 The Citizen, 1898 The Dial Francis Fisher Browne, 1903 A Literary History of America Barrett Wendell, 1905
