Rapid Evolutionary Development:

Evolution Explosion Stephen R Palumbi, 2002-09-03 Evolution is not only the slow process that ruled the rise and fall of the dinosaurs over hundreds of millions of years It also happens quickly so quickly and frequently that it changes how all of us live our lives drugs fail because diseases evolve insects overcome the most powerful pesticides HIV and tuberculosis develop resistance to the newest drugs in a few months While the ecological scars of human technology have been well publicized the broad evolutionary consequences of antibiotic and antiviral use insecticide applications and herbicide bioengineering are largely unexplored Humans have a great impact on evolution Our impact remains largely accidental but our actions have generated a burst of evolutionary change that affects the entire natural world These changes come back to haunt us and affect our daily lives Written for a wide audience The Evolution Explosion examines the practical and critical aspects of modern evolution

Mythos and Logos in the Thought of Carl Jung Walter A. Shelburne, 1988-07-08 The author explores and defends the bold thesis that the idea of the collective unconscious can be reconciled with a scientific world outlook as he sketches a big picture from Jung s psychological viewpoint In his examination of Jung s archetypes Shelburne considers the chief critical views of the scientific import of Jung s thesis as he discusses the issue of rationality posed by the theory There is also a discussion of how the ideas of James Hillman contrast with those of Jung on the issue of the scientific nature of archetypes Shelburne presents scientific evidence for the existence of archetypes and shows how the theory fits in with modern evolutionary biology
