Müller, 2004-01-01 Annotation Second homes are an integral component of tourism in rural and peripheral areas This volume represents the first major international review of second homes for over 25 years The volume represents essential reading for those interested in rural regional development processes Migration Processes and Patterns: Population redistribution in the United Kingdom Anthony Gerard Champion, 1992 Spatial Behavior Reginald G. Golledge, 1997-01-01 How do human beings negotiate the spaces in which they live work and play How are firms and institutions and their spatial behaviors being affected by processes of economic and societal change What decisions do they make about their natural and built environment and how are these decisions acted out Updating and expanding concepts of decision making and choice behavior on different geographic scales this major revision of the authors acclaimed Analytical Behavioral Geography presents theoretical foundations extensive case studies and empirical evidence of human behavior in a comprehensive range of physical social and economic settings Generously illustrated with maps diagrams and tables the volume also covers issues of gender discusses traditionally excluded groups such as the physically and mentally challenged and addresses the pressing needs of our growing elderly population Researching Social and Economic Change David Rose,2002-11 This is a guide to the purposes and potential of one of the most significant national and increasingly international resources for analyzing social change It explains the possibilities and pitfalls in the analysis of panel study data Shaping Rural Areas in Europe Luís Silva,Elisabete Figueiredo,2013-06-17 Shaping Rural Areas in Europe Perceptions and Outcomes on the Present and the Future sets out to investigate the effect of urban perceptions about the rural and consequent demands on rurality on the present and future configurations of rural territories in Europe in the early twenty first century This volume presents and discusses a broad range of case studies and theoretical and methodological approaches from different academic fields mainly Anthropology Sociology and Geography Population Geography K. Bruce Newbold,2013-12-19 This compact and accessible text provides a comprehensive issue oriented introduction to population geography After grounding students in the fundamentals K Bruce Newbold then explains the tools and techniques commonly used to describe and understand population concepts using real world issues and events Drawing on both US and international cases he explores such pressing concerns as HIV AIDS international migration fertility mortality resource scarcity and conflict Every chapter includes methods and focus sections as well as study questions to provide a more in depth discussion of the ideas and concepts developed in the book In addition a wide array of maps tables and figures illustrates and enhances the cases Newbold highlights the geographical perspective with its ability to provide powerful insights and bridge disparate issues by emphasizing the role of space and place location regional differences and diffusion Arguing that an understanding of population is essential to prepare for the future this cogent text will provide upper division undergraduates with a thorough grasp of the field Ethnicity and Integration John Stillwell,Maarten van Ham,2010-07-20 The theme of this volume is ethnicity and the implications for integration of our increasingly ethnically diversified population New research findings from a range of census survey and administrative data sources are presented and case studies are included Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1993 Population Migration and the Changing World Order W. T. S. Gould,A. M. Findlay,1994-09-06 International population migration has recently become a major topic of renewed interest to the global community With the ending of the Cold War many of the physical and political barriers to migration have fallen and as international economic disparities have widened the incentive for movement has grown In many countries new legislative and administrative restrictions have been imposed on the immigration of economic migrants and refugees Population Migration and the Changing World Order is a collection of 16 papers built around the theme of how global migration systems have been affected by recent geopolitical and geoeconomic changes It contains general introductory and concluding overviews and three sections that focus on movements within the Developed World from the Third World to the Developed World and within the Third World These case study chapters draw on original research from a wide range of geographical areas including Europe Asia Australia Africa and North America and deal thematically with specific migrant categories both in terms of origin and destination workers and families skilled and unskilled refugees and school leavers rich and poor Overall this collection offers a global perspective by geographers on a widespread phenomenon of growing concern and importance It presents international migration in the 1990s not as a threat to economic and political stability but rather as an opportunity for migrants and states to react positively to the new and still changing world order Immigration, Internal Migration, and the National Redistribution of the Elderly Population Andrei Rogers,1998 Asian and Pacific Migration Journal ,1993

The 1991 Census User's Guide Angela Dale,Catherine Marsh,1993 An introduction to the 1991 census of population which covers all aspects of census activities from enumeration and data collection to recent forms of output available to researchers for analysis The guide explains the geography of the census and includes a discussion of developments over time

Shifting Spaces Louise Ackers,1998 What are the effects of internal migration within the European Union on the rights and lives of women migrants Based on original unpublished research this timely book traces the development of European citizenship through an examination of the gender dimension of internal migration It is in its capacity as guardian of the rights of EU migrants that the EU behaves most like a modern welfare state This book covers the legal basis of these rights and the extent to which they are based on gendered notions of family life and migration behaviour Women in five member states Sweden UK Ireland Greece and Portugal were interviewed to examine the impact of migration on family career identity and social and political rights This is a useful and original contribution to knowledge of EU social policy comparative work on gender the dynamics of European migration and the relationship of all these issues to citizenship Shifting spaces is important reading for students on socio legal and interdisciplinary courses on EU law women s studies and European policy academics policy makers and lawyers International Perspectives in Urban Studies ,1995 Elderly Migration and Population

Redistribution Andrei Rogers,William H. Frey,1992-12-22 Features both original research and conceptual review papers that examine the factors which govern why the elderly decide to migrate how the migration process operates and the impact of arrival and departure this age group has on the population at large Presents a comparative perspective on the similarities and contrasts between North America Brazil Europe and Japan Environment & Planning ,2010-05 Migrations et territoires Alexandra Schaffar,2020-09-25 Ce num ro aborde les migrations l chelon local ou interr gional et les migrations internationales Il explore diff rentes questions soulev es en conomie des migrations en mettant en lien les comportements des migrants avec les caract ristiques des territoires de d part ou de destination Migration and Public Policy Vaughan Robinson,1999 Comprises a collection of previously published papers on both international and internal migration Investigates the role of governments in encouraging discouraging or forcing such migration Appraises critically the motivation for state intervention including economic efficiency strategic considerations or an attempt to achieve ethnic racial or religious homogeneity and the intended and unintended effects of this intervention International Migration Into the 21st Century Reginald Thomas Appleyard,2001 Includes statistics
