Perfect Equality:

Perfect Equality Maria H. Morales, 1996 This original and compelling book argues that previous studies of John Stuart Mill's work have neglected his egalitarianism and thus seriously misunderstood his views. Morales demonstrates that Mill was fundamentally concerned with how the exercise of unjust or arbitrary power by some individuals over others sabotages the possibility of human well-being and social improvement. Mill therefore believed that perfect equality more than liberty was the foundation of democracy and that democracy was a moral ideal for the organization of human life in all of its dimensions. By reinterpreting Mill, Morales also challenges twentieth-century views of liberalism and addresses its contemporary communitarian and feminist critics.

Philosophical Perspectives on Power and Domination, 2021-09-20 The essays in this volume explore in detail many of the ways power structures our daily personal, political, and intellectual lives and evaluate the workings of power using a variety of theoretical paradigms from Hobbesian liberalism to Foucauldian feminist postmodernism. Taken as a whole, the book aims towards an end to unjust and destructive uses of power and the flowering of an encouraging, educated empowerment for all human beings in a pluralistic world. Section I offers a progressive chain of arguments that moves from the acceptance of domination through the rejection of domination and finally to a new vision of power based on equality and mutual respect. Section II explores the questions: how is the philosophical self that is our very understanding of who we are implicated in the web of power and domination? Section III responds to political realism as it explores morally ideal solutions to the global problems of poverty, war, and hunger. Section IV discusses ways in which our thought and practice in both public and private life are bound up in hierarchies of domination.

The Geography of Transport Systems Jean-Paul Rodrigue, Claude Comtois, Brian Slack, 2006-09-27 Mobility is fundamental to economic and social activities including commuting, manufacturing, or supplying energy.
