Grinding of motors and the thudding of bolts vibrate throughout the docking bay. Men in overalls, stained head to toe, are breaking a sweat running the operation. Officials with clipboards and stogies bark and point. Despite the loud roar of the ventilation, the air reeks of smoke and grime.

A man with a tie and megaphone spits out instructions for the ship-hands to follow. The tone of the commands reveals urgency and curiosity. The bay hasn't had such an exciting emergency beacon salvage in what could constitute forever... ergo perhaps less than a few days.

Workers rush to crowd around the stationed salvage vessel. The control panel is manipulated to unload and decouple the oblong rescue 'dinghy'. All sorts of personnel haul themselves down to the bay after hearing the announcement over communications. A technician wrestles with the air-tight seal. A triage nurse grinds her teeth in anticipation. Security controls the crowd, questioning whether who, or what, on board could be, friend or foe?

The servos of the emergency hypersleep pod click and whirr..

White light.

Their screams could not be forgotten. Something that a man would have to remember forever. A soldier understands his purpose. Even if afraid, he is resolute.

Those screams betrayed their nature. Primordial, like an infant. As if their tower to Heaven had crumbled down. Man was no longer in control.

There was only one other time in his life where screams like that affected him.
