

My best holiday ever

I've just come back from a school trip in Russia. It was for pupils who are studying art or history. The day before we left I had felt quite anxious. I was petrified that I would miss the 5.30 a.m. bus to the airport. But more than anything I was nervous about going to a country with a culture so different from my own.

In fact I had the most amazing trip of my life. We arrived in Moscow at lunchtime. That afternoon we went to Red Square and the Kremlin. It really brought my history lessons alive. Over the next two days we saw lots of squares and churches, including the breathtaking St Basil Cathedral. At the end of the third day we took an overnight train from Moscow to St Petersburg. I only slept for about thirty minutes because I was absolutely boiling. We tried to open the windows, but couldn't. The next morning we discovered that during the journey we had passed an enormous nuclear plant and the guards had locked all the doors and windows for security reasons!

We arrived at St Petersburg at 6 a.m. It was even more beautiful than Moscow. In the morning we visited some beautiful squares and churches. After lunch we went to the amazing Hermitage Museum.

The next day, our last day, we woke up in the morning and there was snow everywhere. About 20 cm of snow had fallen overnight. The sky was blue and I think it was the most beautiful sight I've ever seen in my life.
