Native Leisure Class Consumption And Cultural Creativity In The Andes:

The Native Leisure Class Rudolf Josef Colloredo-Mansfeld, 1999-11 In the Andean city of Otavalo Ecuador a cultural renaissance is now taking place against a backdrop of fading farming traditions transnational migration and an influx of new consumer goods Recently Otavalenos have transformed their textile trade into a prosperous tourist industry exporting colorful weavings around the world Tracing the connections among newly invented craft traditions social networks and consumption patterns Rudi Colloredo Mansfeld highlights the way ethnic identities and class cultures materialize in a sensual world that includes luxurious woven belts powerful stereos and garlic roasted cuyes guinea pigs Yet this case reaches beyond the Andes He shows how local and global interactions intensify the cultural expression of the world's emerging native middle classes at times leaving behind those unable to afford the new trappings of indigenous identity Colloredo Mansfeld also comments on his experiences working as an artist in Otavalo His drawings along with numerous photographs animate this engaging study in economic anthropology

Indigenous Peoples, Civil Society, and the Neo-liberal State in Latin America Edward F. Fischer, 2009 In recent years the concept and study of civil society has received a lot of attention from political scientists economists and sociologists but less so from anthropologists A ground breaking ethnographic approach to civil society as it is formed in indigenous communities in Latin America this volume explores the multiple potentialities of civil society's growth and critically assesses the potential for sustained change Much recent literature has focused on the remarkable gains made by civil society and the chapters in this volume reinforce this trend while also showing the complexity of civil society that civil society can itself sometimes be uncivil In doing so these insightful contributions speak not only to Latin American area studies but also to the changing shape of global systems of political economy in general

The Native World-system Nico Tassi, 2017 Introduction on our own terms indigenous traders in the global economy Indigenous institutions regulating popular markets Kinship networks as chains of supply and distribution The Chinese connection an interstitial global economy under the radar of the Law Revolving capital Aymara cosmoeconomics in global trading practices Individual capital and collective relations in business administration The economic strategies of the Aymara world system The upsurge of Aymara traders an indigenous project of social affirmation

Fighting Like a Community Rudi Colloredo-Mansfeld, 2009-08-01 The indigenous population of the Ecuadorian Andes made substantial political gains during the 1990s in the wake of a dynamic wave of local activism The movement renegotiated land development laws elected indigenous candidates to national office and successfully fought for the constitutional redefinition of Ecuador as a nation of many cultures Fighting Like a Community argues that these remarkable achievements paradoxically grew out of the deep differences in language class education and location that began to divide native society in the 1960s Drawing on fifteen years of fieldwork Rudi Colloredo Mansfeld explores these differences and the conflicts they engendered in a variety of communities From protestors confronting the military during a national strike to a migrant family fighting to get a relative released from prison Colloredo Mansfeld recounts dramatic events and private struggles alike to demonstrate how indigenous power in Ecuador is energized by disagreements over values and priorities eloquently contending that the plurality of Andean communities not their unity has been the key to their political success Appropriation as Practice A. Schneider,2006-06-30 How the traffic in culture is practiced rationalized and experienced by visual artists in the globalized world The book focuses on artistic practices in the appropriation of indigenous cultures and the construction of new Latin American identities Appropriation is the fundamental theoretical concept developed to understand these processes

Heritage Fever Charles a Dana Professor of Anthropology and Africana and Latin American Studies Michelle Bigenho,Michelle Bigenho,Henry Stobart,Professor of Music and Ethnomusicology Henry Stobart,Oxford Editor,2025-09-29 Heritage Fever Law and Cultural Politics in a Decolonizing State takes lawmaking around cultural heritage as a window through which to view the decentered workings of the Indigenous focused Plurinational Bolivian State The early 21st century brought to Bolivia its first Indigenous president a new constitution and a profusion of laws many ratified at the highest levels of government that recognized individual music and dance expressions as intangible cultural heritage Addressing the question of what motivates Bolivians in this heritage making frenzy at this politically transformative moment the book reorients UNESCO driven heritage debates to a different set of questions a pivot the authors call heritage otherwise These inquiries focus on how citizens use law to frame expressive culture and engage their new state Through grounded case studies the book reveals how competing claims over music and dance expressions often perceived as a problem stimulate energy and abundance whether as passionate aficionado research or as dynamic festivals Provided by publisher Alcohol and its Role in the Evolution of Human Society Ian S Hornsey,2016-01-13 Archaeologists and anthropologists especially ethnologists have for many years realised that man s ingestion of alcoholic beverages may well have played a significant part in his transition from hunter gatherer to agriculturalist This unique book provides a scientific text on the subject of ethanol that also aims to include material designed to show non scientists what fermentation is all about Conversely scientists may well be surprised to find the extent to which ethanol has played a part in evolution and civilisation of our species Social Sciences Lawrence Boudon,Katherine D. McCann,2003-09-01 The one source that sets reference collections on Latin American studies apart from all other geographic areas of the world The Handbook has provided scholars interested in Latin America with a bibliographical source of a quality unavailable to scholars in most other branches of area studies Latin American Research Review Beginning with volume 41 1979 the University of Texas Press became the publisher of the Handbook of Latin American Studies the most comprehensive annual bibliography in the field Compiled by the Hispanic Division of the Library of Congress and annotated by a corps of more than 130 specialists in various disciplines the Handbook alternates from year to year between social sciences and humanities The Handbook annotates works on Mexico Central America the Caribbean and the Guianas Spanish South America and Brazil as well as materials covering Latin America as a whole Most of the subsections are preceded by introductory essays that serve as biannual evaluations of the literature and research under way in specialized areas The Handbook of Latin American Studies is the oldest continuing reference work in the field Lawrence Boudon of the Library of Congress Hispanic Division has been the editor since 2001 and Katherine D McCann has been assistant editor since 2000 The subject categories for Volume 59 are as follows Anthropology Economics Geography Government and Politics International Relations Sociology Electronic Resources for the Social Sciences

Howland, 2025-03-28 The purposeful production exchange and consumption of alcohol like all human endeavour is always a matter of time and temporality and ranges from the universality of Einsteinian space time relativity through to species specific nature times and the myriad of anthropocentric constructs of nature time and of social times temporalities Thus time and temporality is an integral variable in all alcohol production exchange and consumption and is complemented by similarly rendered considerations of space place context and contingent social relationships The book draws on historical and ethnographic examples from Aotearoa New Zealand China France India Peru Central Europe and the United Kingdom to enhance our understandings of the dialogic matrices of time and temporality that are generated within and which simultaneously generate various economic social political religious and moral modalities of alcohol in all their conceits and deceptions Time and Alcohol It s Five O Clock Somewhere will appeal to researchers and undergraduates from a wide range of disciplines including sociology history anthropology cultural studies geography marketing and business studies

Handbook of Latin American Studies, 2003 Imaging the Andes Ton Salman, E. B. Zoomers, 2003 The central Andes Bolivia Peru and Ecuador are undergoing rapid change Economic integration within and beyond the Andes neoliberal and adjustment policies new communication technologies indigenous political emancipation and migration are among the factors that are transforming livelihoods cultures and identities of the Andean countries These changes have triggered a debate on the dynamics and the permanence of an Andean way of life Analyzing the dynamics of Andean ness in relation to policy reform and globalization this book addresses new forms of cultural encounter the validity of tradition in the midst of rapid change and the alleged dissociation of identities and cultures from their territories Focusing on the central Andes it becomes clear that inherited views about what it means to be Andean are losing ground

Core Concepts in Cultural Anthropology Robert H. Lavenda, Emily Ann Schultz, 2003 Designed to address the needs of anthropology professors who prefer to make extensive use of ethnographies and other supplementary readings in their courses this is a concise accurate introduction to the basic ideas and practices of contemporary cultural anthropology Not a standard textbook Core Concepts is more like an annotated bibliography of the

Andean Entrepreneurs Lynn Meisch,2002-12 Native to a high valley in the Andes of Ecuador the Otavalos are an indigenous people whose handcrafted textiles and traditional music are now sold in countries around the globe Known as weavers and merchants since pre Inca times Otavalos today live and work in over thirty countries on six continents while hosting more than 145 000 tourists annually at their Saturday market In this ethnography of the globalization process Lynn A Meisch looks at how participation in the global economy has affected Otavalo identity and culture since the 1970s Drawing on nearly thirty years of fieldwork she covers many areas of Otavalo life including the development of weaving and music as business enterprises the increase in tourism to Otavalo the diaspora of Otavalo merchants and musicians around the world changing social relations at home the growth of indigenous political power and current debates within the Otavalo community over preserving cultural identity in the face of globalization and transnational migration Refuting the belief that contact with the wider world inevitably destroys indigenous societies Meisch demonstrates that Otavalos are preserving many features of their culture while adopting and adapting modern technologies and practices they find useful
