Rhetoric And Composition As Intellectual Work:

Rhetoric and Composition As Intellectual Work Gary A. Olson, 2002 In response to those who insist that rhetoric and composition should remain only a service discipline editor Gary A Olson's Rhetoric and Composition as Intellectual Work demonstrates that it already is an intellectual discipline that for at least a quarter of a century the field has developed an impressive tradition of intellectual work in a remarkable assortment of subject areas Rhetoric and Composition as Intellectual Work suggests the diversity of intellectual projects that have and will continue to make rhetoric and composition more than a service to the university more than a field devoted solely to improving writing pedagogy and more than a preliminary to literary studies This collection of nineteen essays by some of the most distinguished scholars in the discipline illustrates that rhetoric and composition has much to contribute to the intellectual milieu of the contemporary university as the field continues to push its disciplinary borders and discover new sites of investigation Publisher's description

Reimagining Popular Notions of American Intellectualism Kelly Susan Bradbury, 2016-03-02 The image of the lazy media obsessed American preoccupied with vanity and consumerism permeates popular culture and fuels critiques of American education In Reimagining Popular Notions of American Intellectualism Kelly Susan Bradbury challenges this image by examining and reimagining widespread conceptions of intellectualism that assume intellectual activity is situated solely in elite institutions of higher education Bradbury begins by tracing the origins and evolution of the narrow views of intellectualism that are common in the United States today Then applying a more inclusive and egalitarian definition of intellectualism she examines the literacy and learning practices of three nonelite sites of adult public education in the United States the nineteenth century lyceum a twentieth century labor college and a twenty first century GED writing workshop Bradbury argues that together these three case studies teach us much about literacy learning and intellectualism in the United States over time and place She concludes the book with a reflection on her own efforts to aid students in recognizing and resisting the rhetoric of anti intellectualism that surrounds them and that influences their attitudes and actions Drawing on case studies as well as Bradbury's own experiences with students Reimagining Popular Notions of American Intellectualism demonstrates that Americans have engaged and do engage in the process and exercise of intellectual inquiry contrary to what many people believe Addressing a topic often overlooked by rhetoric composition and literacy studies scholars it offers methods for helping students reimagine what it means to be intellectual in the twenty first century

Reinventing (with) Theory in Rhetoric and Writing Studies Andrea Alden, Kendall Gerdes, Judy Holiday, Ryan Skinnell, 2019-10-21 Reinventing with Theory in Rhetoric and Writing Studies collects original scholarship that takes up and extends the practices of inventive theorizing that characterize Sharon Crowley's body of work Including sixteen chapters by established and emerging scholars and an interview with Crowley the book shows that doing theory is a contingent and continual rhetorical process that is indispensable for understanding situations and their potential significance and for discovering the available means of persuasion For Crowley theory is a basic building block of rhetoric produced by and within specific times and locations as a means of opening other ways of believing or acting Doing theory in this sense is the practice of surveying the common sense of the community doxa and discovering the available means of persuasion invention The ultimate goal of doing theory is not to prescribe certain actions but to ascertain what options exist for rhetors to see the world differently to discover new possibilities for thought and action and thereby to effect change in the world The scholarship collected in Reinventing with Theory in Rhetoric and Writing Studies takes Crowley's notion of theory as an invitation to develop new avenues for believing and acting By reinventing the understanding of theory and its role in the field this collection makes an important contribution to scholarship in rhetorical studies and writing studies It will be valuable to scholars teachers and students interested in diverse theoretical directions in rhetoric and writing studies as well as in race gender and disability theories religious rhetorics digital rhetoric and the history of rhetoric Publication supported in part by the Texas Tech University Humanities Center Contributors Jason Barrett Fox Geoffrey Clegg Kirsti Cole Joshua Daniel Wariya Diane Davis Rebecca Disrud Bre Garrett Catherine C Gouge Debra Hawhee Matthew Heard Joshua C Hilst David G Holmes Bruce Horner William B Lalicker Jennifer Lin LeMesurier James C McDonald Timothy Oleksiak Dawn Penich Thacker J Blake Scott Victor J Vitanza Susan Wyche

Keywords in Writing Studies Paul Heilker, John Vandenberg, 2015-02-15 Keywords in Writing Studies is an exploration of the principal ideas and ideals of an emerging academic field as they are constituted by its specialized vocabulary A sequel to the 1996 work Keywords in Composition Studies this new volume traces the evolution of the field's lexicon taking into account the wide variety of theoretical educational professional and institutional developments that have redefined it over the past two decades Contributors address the development transformation and interconnections among thirty six of the most critical terms that make up writing studies Looking beyond basic definitions or explanations they explore the multiple layers of meaning within the terms that writing scholars currently use exchange and question Each term featured is a part of the general disciplinary parlance and each is a highly contested focal point of significant debates about matters of power identity and values Each essay begins with the assumption that its central term is important precisely because its meaning is open and multiplex Keywords in Writing Studies reveals how the key concepts in the field are used and even challenged rather than advocating particular usages and the particular vision of the field that they imply The volume will be of great interest to both graduate students and established scholars

Alternative Rhetorics Laura Gray-Rosendale, Sibylle Gruber, 2001-04-19 Alternative Rhetorics questions traditional canons of rhetorical thought and offers new perspectives on rhetorics historically overlooked within Western culture Along with establishing new methodologies for investigating the history of rhetorics the book also explores rhetoric's changing relationship with technology By challenging the reader's understanding of rhetoric and the rhetorical tradition Alternative Rhetorics provides insights that will allow researchers educators and students to rethink their own position in a rhetorical world

Publishing in Rhetoric and

Composition Gary A. Olson, Todd W. Taylor, 1997-01-01 Eminent scholars discuss the politics and practices of generating scholarship in rhetoric and composition studies Publishing in Rhetoric and Composition is a collection of essays about the politics and practices of generating scholarship in rhetoric and composition The contributors to this book many of whom are current or past editors of the discipline s most prestigious scholarly journals undoubtedly have their finger on the pulse of composition s most current scholarship and offer invaluable insight into the production and publication of original research They discuss publishing articles and reviews as well as book length projects including scholarly monographs edited collections and textbooks They also address such topics as how composition research is valued in English departments recent developments in electronic publishing the work habits of successful academic writers and the complications of mentoring graduate students in a publish or perish profession An inviting and helpful tone makes this an ideal textbook for research methodology and professional writing courses

WPA, Writing Program Administration, 2006 Teaching Academic Writing Patricia Friedrich, 2008-05-21 Teaching Academic Writing examines the issues that confront teachers of academic writing classes In a series of ten teacher focused chapters Friedrich offers practical advice and solutions in areas of teaching assessment and feedback

JAC, 2007 Delivering College Composition Kathleen Blake Yancey, 2006 The problems of boys in schools especially in reading and writing have been the focus of statistical data but rarely does research point out how literacy educators can combat those problems

Process This Nancy DeJoy, 2004-10 In Process This Nancy DeJoy argues that even recent revisions to composition studies cultural studies service learning and social process movements continue to repress the subjects and methodologies that should be central especially at the level of classroom practice Designed to move student discourses beyond the classroom these approaches nonetheless continue to position composition students and teachers as mere consumers of the discipline This means that the subjects methodologies and theory practice relationships that define the field are often absent in composition classrooms Arguing that the world inside and outside of the academy cannot be any different if the profession stays the same DeJoy creates a pedagogy and a plan for faculty development that revisions the prewrite write rewrite triad to open spaces for participation and contribution to all members of first year writing classrooms Annual Report New Haven (Conn.). Board of Education, 1888 Changing of Knowledge in Composition Lance Massey, Richard C. Gephardt, 2011-07-16 Lance Massey and Richard Gebhardt offer in this collection many signs that composition again faces a moment of precariousness even as it did in the 1980s the years of the great divorce from literary studies The contours of writing in the university again are rapidly changing making the objects of scholarship in composition again unstable Composition is poised to move not from modern to postmodern but from process to postprocess from a service oriented field to a research driven discipline Some would say we are already there Momentum is building to replace composition and the pedagogical imperative long implied in that term with a writing studies model devoted to the study of composition as a fundamental tool of and force within all areas of human activity Appropriately contributors here use Stephen M North's 1987 book The Making of Knowledge in Composition to frame and background their discussion as they look at both the present state of the field and its potential futures As in North's volume The Changing of Knowledge in Composition describes a body of research and pedagogy brimming with conflicting claims methodologies and politics and with little consensus regarding the proper subjects and modes of inquiry The deep ambivalence within the field itself is evident in this collection Contributors here envision composition both as retaining its commitment to broad based generalized writing instruction and as heading toward content based vertical writing programs in departments and programs of writing studies They both challenge and affirm composition's pedagogical heritage And they sound both sanguine and pessimistic notes about composition's future Rhetoric and Resistance in the Corporate Academy Christopher Carter, 2008 Rhetoric and Resistance in the Corporate Academy analyzes the political and legal struggles between labor movements and school administrators over the rise of part time and temporary jobs in higher education Focusing particular attention on the labor of writing instruction Carter finds among literacy workers both a deeply exploited segment of the campus population and a vector of resistance to the hegemony of flexible hiring Contrary to visions of ivory tower seclusion he traces continuities between teachers and students experiences as corporate employees contending that their frequently insecure positions inadequate working conditions minimal benefits and marginalized voices constitute grounds for political alliance Carter then outlines a labor theory of agency that entails long range collaboration among tenure line faculty part time and non tenure track teachers and student social movements listening always for harmonies as well as dissonances among their modes of argument

Rhetorical Education In America Cheryl Jean Glenn, Margaret Lyday, Wendy Beth Sharer, 2004-09-08 A timely collection of essays by prominent scholars in the field on the past present and future of rhetoric instruction From Isocrates and Aristotle to the present rhetorical education has consistently been regarded as the linchpin of a participatory democracy a tool to foster civic action and social responsibility Yet questions of who should receive rhetorical education in what form and for what purpose continue to vex teachers and scholars The essays in this volume converge to explore the purposes problems and possibilities of rhetorical education in America on both the undergraduate and graduate levels and inside and outside the academy William Denman examines the ancient model of the citizen orator and its value to democratic life Thomas Miller argues that English departments have embraced a literary research paradigm and sacrificed the teaching of rhetorical skills for public participation Susan Kates explores how rhetoric is taught at nontraditional institutions such as Berea College in Kentucky where Appalachian dialect is espoused Nan Johnson looks outside the academy at the parlor movement among women in antebellum America Michael Halloran examines the rhetorical education provided by historical landmarks where visitors are encouraged to share a common public discourse Laura Gurak presents the challenges posed to traditional notions of literacy by the computer the promises and dangers of internet technology and the necessity of a critical cyber literacy for future rhetorical curricula Collectively the essays coalesce around timely political and cross disciplinary issues Rhetorical Education in America serves to orient scholars and teachers in rhetoric regardless of their disciplinary home and help to set an agenda for future classroom practice and curriculum design
