The Body is Made to Move Christina Hedblom, 2009 Women, Body, Illness Pamela Moss, Isabel Dyck, 2002. This provocative and moving work explores concepts of body and space to better understand the daily lives and struggles of women with chronic illness. Moss and Dyck show how such women coping with associated notions of illness, health, and being female restructure their physical and social environments through the strategies they choose to accommodate disabling illnesses such as chronic fatigue syndrome, multiple sclerosis, or rheumatoid arthritis. Strategies might include disclosing or concealing illness from employers and friends, seeking or rejecting emotional support through old friends and new contacts, and pursuing or resisting specific diagnoses from the biomedical community. Featuring a wealth of original research and personal stories, Women, Body, Illness tells the tales of chronically ill women forging networks of support, redefining themselves, and challenging what it is to be ill.

The Silent Rhetoric of the Body Matthew Craske, 2007. Matthew Craske looks closely at tomb sculptures in their social context. He discusses a large number of monuments by many different sculptors, all with a knowledge of the person commemorated and the circumstances behind the commission.

Body - Mind - Spirit Richard P. Johnson, 1992. Dr. Johnson details the 30 healing virtues we all possess. With this guide, readers can view illness as an opportunity to begin living as never before. Gradually, Lorraine began to climb out of the pit of despair she had dug for herself. She began to see a flicker of the light of hope that had grown so dim since her diagnosis. Something was changing for her, something with the power of the universe behind it. How could this be happening? How did Lorraine transform her tragedy into a lesson for peace? Psychologist Richard Johnson calls Lorraine and others like her spiritually healing persons because they have risen to a new level of spirituality as a result of a traumatic illness. In this book, Dr. Johnson details the 30 healing virtues they possess and how they used those virtues to transform themselves from disgruntled patients into glorious persons for whom sickness has become a challenge and an opportunity for healing. Body Mind Spirit will not only provide a picture of what a spiritually healing person looks like but will provide a road map to help you get there yourself.
