Book Review Digest Leslie Dunmore-Leiber, 1976 The Guide to the Architecture of the Indian Subcontinent Annabel Lopez, Bevinda Collaco, 2004 This guidebook introduces the architecture of the Indian subcontinent including Bangladesh in great detail revealing a great architectural culture that is richly different from that in Japan Europe and America It gives the armchair traveler a visual feast with a large number of photographs which will transport the reader to the site without having to actually travel to these magnificent but far flung monuments Indian architecture through the ages is included from ancient times to the present day along with Islamic architecture and Colonial style architecture during the British rule Important buildings are illustrated with many photographs of the exteriors and interiors The National Union Catalog, 1961

The Take-Off Cyclop, Editor Neera Jain, 2020-12-10 Indian cyclists are having great adventures on the road but their stories are not widely known For the first time one can read true stories by 37 Indian cyclists all in one book Read stories by the top cycling champions representing India as well as accounts by ordinary people pushing their limits Each story will take you to a different cyclist's ride and mind Go from a suspenseful race finish by the national road cycling champion Naveen John in Jamkhandi to an amateur's attempt to survive a race in Gujarat from cycling in the deep jungles of Coonoor to training for a race during shutdown in Kashmir from cycling alone to cycling in tandem Lose yourself in the book or gift it to someone Perfect for both adults and children the stories are inspiring thrilling and sometimes moving Cumulative Book Index ,1957 India Today International ,2007-04 National Union Catalog ,1970 Includes entries for maps and atlases Bookseller and the Stationery Trades' Journal ,1955 Library of Congress Catalog Library of Congress,1955

A Place in the Shade Charles Correa,2010 Indian cities are mechanisms for social engineering more powerful than anything we have seen before They will transform this country A Place in the Shade explores architectural and urban issues in India from the house as a machine for dealing with our often hostile climate to the metaphysical role of architecture as a Model of the Cosmos This reflective provocative and consistently readable collection of essays argues that our habitat must respond to the overriding parameters of climate culture and financial resources and that our physical environment should accommodate notions of inclusion and diversity and that priceless quality of synergy which characterizes a city Charles Correa identifies the defining issues of the urbanization process that is so rapidly transforming India He writes You cannot look at cities without wandering into architecture on the one hand and politics on the other Tragically over the last few decades urban real estate has become the primary source of financing for political parties and the politicians who run them But our towns and cities are assets too precious to be squandered in this manner Like the wheat fields of Punjab and the coal fields of Bihar cities are a crucial part of our national wealth Their success or their failure will determine our future Indian cities are mechanisms for social engineering more powerful than anything we have seen before They will transform this country A Place in the Shade explores architectural and urban issues in India from the house as a machine for dealing with our often hostile climate to the metaphysical role of architecture as a Model of the Cosmos
