Tyner,2017-05-15 Between 1975 and 1978 the Khmer Rouge carried out genocide in Cambodia unparalleled in modern history Approximately 2 million died almost one quarter of the population Taking an explicitly geographical approach this book argues whether the Khmer Rouge s activities not only led to genocide but also terraced the erasure of space In the Cambodia of 1975 the landscape would reveal vestiges of an indigenous pre colonial Khmer society a French colonialism and American intervention The Khmer Rouge however were not content with retaining the past inscriptions of previous modes of production and spatial practices Instead they attempted to erase time and space to create their own utopian vision of a communal society The Khmer Rouge s erasing and reshaping of space was thus part of a consistent sacrifice of Cambodia and its people a brutal justification for the killing of a country and the birth of a new place Democratic Kampuchea While focusing on Cambodia the book provides a clearer geographic understanding to genocide in general and insights into the importance of spatial factors in geopolitical conflict 'The Politics' and 'The Political' of the Eastern Partnership Initiative Elena Korosteleva, Igor Merheim-Eyre, Eske Van Gils, 2019-10-23 The Special Issue consolidates new approaches to the study of the EU s role in the eastern neighbourhood and beyond informed by post structuralist traditions in international relations More specifically by revisiting the European Neighbourhood Policy s agenda from the conceptual perspective of the political and redefining the notions of othering differentiation and normalisation this volume renders a new and much needed theoretical and empirical outlook onto the policy developments and their practices By unpacking and connecting security regional institutional normative and sector thematic policy dimensions the book seeks to re politicise the agenda and re focus policy revision on understanding the fundamentals of power relations when applied to the EU external relations In light of the compounding crises external and internal one can no longer afford to simply tinker around the edges of the policy content and instruments A more radical theoretical undertaking is overdue to re shape re define and re centre the EU relations with the eastern region especially put in the context of the new EU s Global Security Strategy and the new aspirations for the 2017 European Neighbourhood summit The chapters originally published as a special issue in East European Politics

Democratic Politics Or the Implementation of Inevitabilities? Kristi Raik, 2003 National Missile Defense and the Politics of US Identity Natalie Bormann, 2008-12-15 Why adopt a poststructural lens for the reading of the military strategy of national missile defence NMD No doubt when contemplating an attack on US territory by intercontinental ballistic missiles consulting Michel Foucault and critical international relations theory scholars may not seem the obvious route to take The answer to this lies in another question why has there been so much interest and continuous investment in NMD deployment when there is such ambiguity surrounding the status of threat to which it responds controversy over its technological feasibility and concern about its cost Posed in this manner the question cannot be answered on its own terms the terms given in official accounts of NMD that justify the system s significance on the basis of strategic feasibility studies and conventional threat predictions guided by worst case scenarios Instead this book argues that the preferences leading to NMD deployment must be understood as satisfying requirements beyond strategic approaches and issues In turning towards the interpretative modes of inquiry provided by critical social theory and poststructuralism this book contests the conventional wisdom about NMD and suggests reading the strategy in terms of US identity Presented as an analysis of discourses on threats to national security around which the need for NMD deployment is predominantly framed this book is an effort to let the two fields of critical international relations theory and US foreign policy speak directly to each other It seeks to do so by showing how the concept of identity can be harnessed to an analysis of a contemporary military strategic practice

International Relations, 2002 Review of International Studies, 2005 Hybrid Sovereignty in the Arab Middle East Gokhan Bacik, 2008-07-02 This book provides readers with a fresh analysis of the Arab state by using a new theoretical framework hybrid sovereignty Hybrid sovereignty is used as an analytical tool to explain the survival of traditional patterns and forms of authority within the formal modern statehood The author looks at various issue areas to make his argument citizenship the issue of minorities electoral engineering the failure of central rule tribalism and the lack of impersonal bureaucratic mechanism He concludes that based on the problems at state society level boundaries of statehood the Arab state can be identified as hybrid sovereign

Remembering and Forgetting 1916 Rebecca Graff-McRae, 2010 Remembering and Forgetting 1916 engages with the diverse divergent and at times contradictory discourses of commemoration in Ireland It explores the complex politics of commemoration of four significant events in Irish history the Easter Rising the Battle of the Somme the 1798 Rebellion and the H Block Hunger Strike It asks how the commemorations of these events have become incorporated into present politics in the wake of the Good Friday Agreement The book begins and ends with the Easter Rising The construction of 1916 as the pivotal moment of Irish history identity and memory has had lasting consequences for the Irish definition of political conflict and how this is defined through commemoration In Remembering and Forgetting 1916 it is argued that the ghosts of 1916 are in many ways the ghosts of 1998 This book thus calls forth the ghosts of commemoration and examines how the ghosts of conflict and consensus are used to political ends in the present Publisher
