Preaching Liberation:

Preaching Liberation James H. Harris, For all preachers who take seriously the church's role as a catalyst of social and spiritual transformation James Harris advocates the salient features of liberation preaching especially as exemplified in black church settings

A Captive Voice David Buttrick, 1994-01-01 In A Captive Voice David Buttrick encourages pastors to look afresh at the Bible church culture and Christian identity in order to answer the question of how to preach Buttrick examines the renewal of ecclesiology in the mid twentieth century a time when the high hung pulpits were scaled down as preaching came to be seen as a conversation among friends in Christ While this was a positive development Buttrick argues that preaching must now become the articulation of our common faith a speaking from the Spirit we all possess

Moved to Act Valerie Miller-Coleman, 2018 This project attempts to establish a method of practice for preaching liberation theology with integrity in a context of privilege Further it explores the means of compelling the hearer to move beyond intellectual assent to changed behavior It establishes that the testimonial method as interpreted from the work of Anna Carter Florence provides a particularly useful means of preaching a challenging worked in a large predominantly white affluent progressive mainline congregations in the Midwest It engages the work of Henry H Mitchell and Frank A Thomas and the insights of the Myers Briggs Type Indicator to refine the approach to preaching with more sensory focus and a more deliberate use of cognitive intuitive and emotional elements This integration of sources in practice provides a replicable method for preaching liberation that is likely to compel the hearer to changed behavior

The Liberating Pulpit Justo L. Gonzalez, Gonzalez, 2003-01-27 Catherine and Justo Gonzalez provide a valuable resource for preaching and biblical interpretation An account of liberation theology's impact on the task of preaching is offered by two historians of doctrine who are intimately aware of the need to be open to marginalized perspectives in the church Early Christian preachers had much to say on issues such as the origins and proper use of wealth the rights and duties of the poor and rich and the nature of ownership The Gonzalezes recapture this early Christian spirit offering concrete ways that the interpretation of specific biblical texts may be enriched or corrected in order to speak directly to the whole life of the whole church Often used as a text in preaching courses The Liberating Pulpit helps to clarify and to bridge the gap between those whose preaching and hermeneutics tend to be more traditional and the various minorities who tend to read Scripture in a different way
