Mental Handicap An Introduction:

Mental Handicap D. J. Eden, 1975 Mental Retardation Mary Beirne-Smith, James R. Patton, Shannon H. Kim, 2006 This book provides educators with the most current information about the many facets of mental retardation and intellectual disabilities from a life cycle perspective The authors also show relationships between theory and practice decode the terminology used in the field and relate these terms and concepts to the reality of the classroom the world of work and the life of the community An Introduction to Mental Illness and Mental Handicap National Association for Mental Health (Great Britain), 1973 An Introduction to Mental Illness and Mental Handicap MIND (Mental health association), 1974 Social Competence and Mental Handicap Herbert C. Gunzburg, 1973 An Introduction to Mental Retardation: a Programmed Text Walter H. Ehlers, Jon C. Prothero, Curtis H. Krishef, 1973 An Introduction to Mental Handicap V. M. Grover, 2000 Introduction to Social Administration in Britain Muriel Brown, Sarah Payne, 2025-07-15 Published in 1994 as a revised and updated seventh edition this classic guide to social administration was first published in 1969 The book provides information about social problems and the structure and working of the social services in the late 20th Century It also identifies the main lines of development in social legislation and clarifies the issues that dominated social policy many of which are still relevant today Major changes to provision in social security health education employment and personal social services have been incorporated and the conflicts around these changes explored The trend towards the privatization of welfare and the centralizing role of the state are discussed in the context of economic change This text will be of interest to students lecturers and professionals in the history of social policy sociology policy making Mental Retardation Beirne-Smith, 2005-06-09 Mental Handicap Gillies Owens, Peter Birchenall, 1979 Mental Handicap Simon Dyson, 2002-11-01 First Published in 2004 In academic popular and official literature a great deal has been written about parent professional relationships They are often represented as being fundamentally important and valuable for all the parties involved The author of this book is concerned with the unequal power relations between parents and professionals and that professionals assumptions and practices should be viewed as questionable from a parental perspective This study concerns the parents of mentally handicapped children and to a lesser extent the various professionals including academics who impinge on their lives Congressional Record United States. Congress, 1972 Mental Handicap, 1972 229 references to literature about the mentally retarded selected primarily from the fields of psychology and education Arranged in alphabetical order by author Subject index Introduction to Mental Hygiene Ernest Rutherford Groves, Phyllis Mary Blanchard, 1930 On no application of science to human needs are modern men and women more willing to stake their hopes than on mental hygiene Mental hygiene represents a distinct purpose and viewpoint rather than a definite sphere of science It cuts across many of the divisions that have resulted from the study of human conduct Of these psychiatry psychology and sociology yield most to the accumulating fund of mental hygiene The authors of this book are deeply conscious of the difficulty of drawing together the various expressions of the mental hygiene movement in the effort to give it synthesis Any such attempt must be pioneering but in spite of great differences of opinion regarding certain aspects of mental hygiene there now appears to be need of providing for the college student and the general reader an introduction to this movement which promises so much for individual and social welfare

Adolescent and Pre-Adolescent Psychiatry John H. Evans, 2013-10-22 Adolescent and Pre Adolescent Psychiatry covers the observations concepts and treatment approaches for adolescent and pre adolescent psychiatric cases derived from clinical experience combined with information from the relevant journals This book is organized into three parts encompassing 19 chapters The first chapter describes the examination process of a competent assessment of a patient allowing the most appropriate and effective treatment to follow while the second chapter presents the diagnostic classifications The subsequent three chapters survey the normal personality and family functioning and form an essential background to the understanding of disturbed young people Considerable chapters are devoted to the range of clinical disturbances and diagnostic categories that is seen by child and adolescent psychiatrists The remaining chapters deal with the factors that affect treatment actions These chapters also look into the components of psycho family group and drug therapy This book will prove useful to psychiatrists social workers psychologists nurses or members of the teaching profession
